Scanlon To Expand, Renovate Main St. Business Property

By Sue Aucella Deacon

William J. Scanlon of Scanlon Hardware is about to undertake a $2.2 million, two-phase project to renovate and expand his Main Street property — the former site of Cole Hardware — to provide new "deluxe office space" in downtown Andover.

The first phase of the project, renovating 16,000 square feet of existing space in the two-story Barnard building, may begin next month, Scanlon said yesterday. The second phase, the addition of a third floor totalling 12,000 square feet, will probably begin next April or May, he added.

Scanlon Hardware moved into the Barnard building in late July, after Milton Cole of Andover retired from the hardware business and sold his building and business to Scanlon for more than $1 million. Cole Hardware had been a downtown fixture for more than 30 years.

Scanlon's business vacated smaller quarters across the street, its home since 1970, which has since been acquired by

The Andover Industrial Development Finance Authority (I.D.F.A.) Tuesday night voted to give final approval to Scanlon's request for $1.6 million in tax-free, low-interest industrial revenue bonds.

Scanlon must now seek Massachusetts I.D.F.A. approval to secure that funding; he told the TOWNSMAN yesterday that he is in the process of preparing documents for the state, and plans to file his application within the next two or three weeks.

The Board of Selectmen Monday night voted unanimously to support Scanlon's request for I.D.F.A. financing. Town Manager Kenneth Mahony told the selectmen, "We're looking forward to a really good project."

West Elementary School Float

West Float Is Second

The float sponsored by West Elementary School and entered in the Santa Claus parade featured a downtown Andover scene, including a church, Backstreet Restaurant, old town hall, Moose-a-laneous and Andover Savings Bank, and carolers dressed in Victorian garb. The float, under the direction of Anne Sullivan and co-chairperson Pat Kitowicz, won second prize.

Sally Wolfe, West Elementary art teacher, held a contest asking students to draw scenes for the float. Allison Bates and Meghan McKee were winners with Jenny Galvin second and Heather Johnson, who held the West banner, third.

Children who appeared on the float were Allison Bates, Meghan McKee, Jeanette, Deanna and Adam Gray, Whitney and Lindsay Bates, Sarah Benoit, Mary and Kelly Cutting, Matt and Beth D'Elia, Missy Famiglietti, Jenny Galvin, Heather Johnson, Andrew Henderson, Stacy, Kristen and Allison Jenkins, Jenny Kitowicz, Melanie and Michael Maguire, Gail and Gary Rollins, Beth Segal, Hope Sullivan and Erin Sullivan.

West P.T.O. is appreciative to Woodworth Chevrolet and Francis Reilly for their time and services.

Workshop On Books At Library

A Parent-Teacher Workshop is scheduled for Memorial Hall Library, Elm Square, Andover, December 10 at 7 p.m.

Bridget Bennett, children's librarian, will speak on "How to Choose a Book to Read to Preschoolers" and "Books that Will Enrich Children's Language Skills." There is no charge. Contact Steven Deutsch if planning to attend.

Friday Is Deadline For Taxes

Tomorrow, Dec. 7, is the deadline for paying Andover property taxes and/or filing for abatements on property assessments.

Collector/Treasurer Myron Muise reminds taxpayers that bills are due Friday by the end of regular business hours, 4:30 p.m., at town offices on Bartlet Street. Those who fail to pay their taxes by tomorrow's deadline will be charged interest at the rate of 14 percent, he says.

Assessor William Russell notes that 4:30 p.m. Friday is also the deadline for filing for abatements on property valuations. Taxpayers who wish to dispute their assessments may fill out abatement forms at the assessors' office in the Bartlet Street office building.

Russell points out that townspeople filing for abatements are still obliged to pay their tax bills by Dec. 7.

Licenses, Permits Approved

Four common victualler licenses and a number of utility permits were among the requests approved by the Board of Selectmen during their meeting at town offices on Bartlet Street Monday night.

Common victualler licenses for the current year were granted to: Horne of Plenty, 32 Park St.; Mark DeLuca of Watertown, for a canteen at Shattuck Road; Dining Management Service at Infinet, 6 Shattuck Road; and Saga Food at Hewlett Packard, 3000 Minuteman Road.

Massachusetts Electric Co. was granted permission to install underground conduits and accompanying fixtures under North Main Street, to install cables at Jenkins Road, and (together with New England Telephone) to erect a line of poles with wires and fixtures on Whittier Street.

Bay State Gas Co. was granted permission to excavate at 22 Wildwood Road and 13 High Plain Road.

And New England Telephone received permission to maintain buried cables and accompanying wires and fixtures under Apache Avenue, Penacook Place, Wabanaki Way, Sioux Circle, Cheyenne Circle and Shawnee Circle.

Outdoor Pageant Approved

Reservation Road will be closed for four hours on Dec. 23, with the Board of Selectmen's permission, while West Parish Church holds its eighth annual Christmas pageant.

The road will be closed from West Parish Church to Cutler Road from 4 p.m. to 8 p.m. Sunday, Dec. 23, for the outdoor pageant.

The selectmen unanimously approved the street closing Monday night. The Police Department had previously approved plans to close the street.

Town Meeting Items Before Planners

A variety of town meeting items will come up for discussion during the next meeting of the Planning Board, scheduled for 7:30 next Tuesday night, Dec. 11, at town offices on Bartlet Street.

According to Principal Planner Nancy Jeton of the Community Development and Planning department, the board will hold a "policy workshop" — not public hearings — on several town meeting issues, including multiple-family housing, the central business district, and downtown parking. (Public discussions will be held on those matters during future board meetings, Jeton indicated.)

The planners will also vote on two proposed subdivisions, Granli Estates and Great Heron Place, and will review preliminary plans for Pinewood Estates, a new subdivision proposed for a site off Beacon Street.

Participant In Academic Decathlon

Suzanne DeCeglie participated in the 1984 Massachusetts Academic Decathlon in which high school students were grilled on subjects ranging from economics and biology to literature and delivered impromptu followed by oral interviews.

The daughter of Marcia De-

Ceglie, 8 Linwood St., Suzanne attends Our Lady of Nazareth Academy, in Wakefield. The academic competition was held at Cambridge Rindge and Latin School, in Cambridge, where Suzanne was one of six students on the Nazareth team.

Honors

An Andover man was named to the honor roll for his work this summer at Northeastern University, Boston.

Fred S. Furnari, Cypress Lane, is a nursing student at the five-year school and maintained an average of at least a 3.0 out of a possible 4.0, with no grades below a "C" to make the honor listing. He is the son of Mary and Fred Furnari.

Wood Hill Hike Is Sunday

December may threaten with its traditional crunch of holiday preparations, but the Andover Appalachian Mountain Club has the perfect remedy, a winter hike on Sunday, Dec. 9, through the beautiful Wood Hill Reservation. This is a piece of early farmland now maintained by the Andover Conservation Commission. The area has open and wooded sections with trails which lead walkers near the remains of old homesteads from Andover's past.

More than holiday-decked Main Street, bustling shoppers and overloaded social calendars, Andover has a quiet side in the settled peace of its winter landscape, a side which A.M.C. members know from experience refreshes and rests, especially when enjoyed in the company of good friends, new and old, who know there is more to December than hustle and heating bills.

Meet at 1:30 p.m. in the parking lot along High Plain Road just west of the I-495 overpass. If Sunday's weather suggests cross country skis might be in order, bring them along. Snow on the ground will be no deterrent to the enjoyment of this lovely portion of Andover's conservation lands.

For information and directions, call leaders George Brattin or Lomer Pothier.

Billy the Kid's real name was William Bonney.

Tutors Are Needed For Program

The Greater Lawrence Ecumenical Area Ministry (GLEAM) has operated an English language tutoring program in Lawrence since 1969. Hundreds of people, mostly Hispanic, have taken advantage of the classes. This program differs from other English language tutoring programs in several respects. First, it is free to all students who desire tutoring; they need only pay for their books. Second, all tutors are volunteers who need have no special experience or expertise either with Spanish or with teaching. Third, tutoring is done in the home of the student. We feel teaching in the home has several advantages. It helps eliminate barriers between Anglos and Hispanics as they enter the communities and homes of the other; it lessens the distance between the teacher and the student which makes learning easier for many who are shy and insecure; it decreases the formality of the teaching situation and often results in real friendships developing between tutors and students; it provides homebound people, especially women with young children, with an opportunity to learn English; and it allows for individualized attention for each student or family of students. Obviously, the GLEAM tutoring program is labor intensive. Classes are small—often one to one—and usually meet on a weekly basis. Most tutors work with only one student or family group. Currently, tutors are needed. The demand in Lawrence for English language tutoring is tremendous. And, the need for positive interaction between the Hispanic and Anglo communities is great.

Bloodmobile In Visit To Christ Church

The Red Cross Bloodmobile will visit Christ Church on Friday, Dec. 21 from 2 to 7 p.m.

The need for blood remains critical throughout the Commonwealth and the parish is participating in this program during this season of giving, extending an invitation to all to give the gift of life and health.

Association Holds Recitals For Students

The Merrimack Valley Music Teachers Association held two recitals Sunday, Dec. 2, at the Patten Library, Tewksbury, for students, parents and friends.

The first recital, at 1:30 p.m., had 11 boys playing popular and classical selections. One student surprised his father with a special song he learned especially for him.

Students playing in this recital were David Lamonica, Mark Scipione, Jason Sebell, Christopher Chin, Stephen Sheppard, Jeffrey Johnson, Jeffrey Grace, Joseph Lamonica, David Bernstein, David Platt and Mark Angelos.

In the second recital at 3:30 p.m., 22 boys and girls played selections on the piano and one vocal student performed.

The students were Chris-Beth Narkun, Elizabeth Quinn, Holly Harrom, Patricia Harr, Sara Brandt, Alaina Schroeder, Judy Anthony, Doug Morvera, Melissa Schroeder, Sefany Andreadis, Debbie Wu, Olivia Vitale, Tracey Goodman, Katherine Guilbeault, Heidi Harrom, Kim Guerrero, Sonya Behling, Jorge Willemsen, Michele Stein, Karen Choe, Debbie McGill, Andrea Miller and Maya Emshwiller.

Teachers who presented students to play in the recital were June Persing, Trudy Grouady, Kate Benson from Andover, Barbara Carney of Pinehurst, Marcia Cohen of Lowell, Gilbert Macfarlane of Reading, Marguerite Samorian of Groton, Nona Porter of Dracut, and Barbara Sands of Tewksbury.

The Merrimack Valley Music Teachers Association is an area branch of the Massachusetts Music Teachers Association and Music Teachers National Association. Its goal is to encourage and stimulate musical and artistic growth among students. Meetings are held monthly at members' studios and lectures are given by guest artists and their own members. Opportunities for recitals, master classes and festivals are offered to students.

U.F. Drive Ahead Of Goal

Fred P. Shaheen, campaign chairman of the Merrimack Valley United Fund, announced on November 27 that to date the United Fund has raised $3,477,132. This is the second of four reports the United Fund will make during the 1984-85 campaign.

Last year at this mid-point, the total was $3,165,856. Overall, the accounts reported so far are averaging about nine percent above last year's giving level. This increase is due to increased fair share giving by corporations and individuals.

Highlighting the campaign so far are Hewlett-Packard's Andover Division with an increase in both corporate and employee giving amounting to $38,261 over last year, Analog Devices in Wilmington has reported an increase of $1,209, and the employees of First Essex Savings in Greater Lawrence have given $6,978 more this year.

James S. Scully of North Andover is the 1984-85 general campaign chairman for Greater Lawrence.

Holiday Advisory Issued

The Andover Fire Department advises merchants and others about flammable decorations which will be in abundant use this time of year. According to current fire regulations, the term decorations shall include "all materials such as curtains, draperies, scenery, plastic shields, upholstery materials, streamers, surface coverings applied over the building interior finish for decorative effect and also cloth, cotton batting, straw, vines, leaves, trees and moss used for decorative effect, bamboo and other wood fibres but shall not include window shades."

This means that cut Christmas trees or parts thereof cannot be used except in a single family dwelling. To simplify any problems for Andover residents, they are urged to come to the central fire station and ask about decorating for this holiday season before they run into problems in this area.

Cartoonist Addresses Lions Club

The Andover Lions Club met Monday at Valle's Steak House. Cartoonist Bob Alexander was guest speaker and gave examples of the work he does for the Milwaukee Brewers and a California sports syndicate. He also talked about the work of the New England Sports Hall of Fame.

The Andover Lions Club have started their annual appeal, by letter, for funds for eye research. Last year Massachusetts Lions Clubs donated $480,000 for this purpose. Contributions may be sent to the Andover Lions Club, c/o Bank of New England Bay State, 84 Main St., Andover.

Getting Wintery

Winter weather made a rather definite arrival this week, with a little sleet and snow affording an omen of things to come. Temperatures dipped substantially from their balmy readings of just a few short days ago, as evidenced by from left, Jeff and Justin McLean and Patricia Denoncourt who donned heavy clothing to await the school bus to take them to kindergarten classes at Shawsheen School.

John W. Peirce, well-known conservationist on the North Shore, received the Ipswich River Watershed Association's Environmental Award at an all-day Watershed Management Conference, Saturday, Nov. 17, at Essex Agricultural and Technical Institute. Peirce was an author of the original Hatch Act, the predecessor of the Wetlands Protection Act and was co-founder of the Essex County Greenbelt Association and the Ipswich River Watershed Association, Inc. He developed legislation which resulted in the creation of the Ipswich River District Advisory Board.

Elizabeth Kline, special assistant for water resources in the executive office of environmental affairs, presented the state's perspective on water policy. Massachusetts is an environmentally-oriented and water-rich state. Raising public consciousness about water issues when there is not an immediate crisis is not easy, but by 1990 one-third of the communities in the state will have to do something to meet their water needs, she estimated.

Training

Pictorial Review Of Those Who Served Our Town Compiled

By Sue Aucella Deacon

During the past 129 years, 70 citizens have served the town of Andover as elected members of the Board of Selectmen. Their ranks include familiar names from the town's history — Shattuck, Abbott, Holt — and familiar names from the more immediate past — Hardy, Hall, White.

Yet others among them have been all but forgotten. Rice, Flint, Bardwell, Bliss, Donald — who were these men? And when did they work on the town's behalf?

To give each and all their rightful place in Andover's history, the late Col. Edward M. Harris, himself a former selectman (1977-1983), last year compiled a list of every board member from 1855 to the present. The colonel completed that project in the fall of 1983, shortly before his death last December.

After nearly a year's research, the town manager's staff has illustrated that list by collecting photographs of each selectman into a handsome loose-leaf notebook. Kept on display in the manager's office, the collection offers Andover an unusual and engaging record of its public servants down through the years.

"Andover has had such good government over the years, it's kind of neat to be able to recognize these people in some way," Town Manager Kenneth Mahony comments. "These people have done a lot of work for Andover."

"It gives us a little more feeling of history," the manager adds. "History is such an important part of Andover, and of the mindset of the people."

The collection was completed in time for an open house held at the new town offices last month as part of the town's Veterans' Day observances. "I'm really pleased with the interest people have shown in it," Mr. Mahony says.

"It was quite popular at the open house," says Alice Flanders, assistant to the town manager's secretary, who was largely responsible for collecting the photographs. "It was surprising how many people came in here and sat and looked at the book. There was always a crowd around it."

All but 20 selectmen are represented in the book; to date, no paintings or photographs have been found of those early board members.

An eight-by-ten black-and-white photograph of each official is included, one photograph to a page, along with each selectman's name and dates in office. (The photographs were printed by Jean Sheehan of Andover Photo, who "was wonderful," Alice says.)

Because the town's first four selectmen are among the missing, the first photograph in the collection is that of Joseph Rice, who served but one year, 1856 to 1857. His portrait depicts a rather dapper dark-haired man in a waistcoat.

The early pages show somber men (for the first woman does not appear until 1974) with dramatic whiskers and waxed mustaches. Later the selectmen are more often clean-shaven, and more disposed to smile.

The book ends with recent photographs, most of them last seen in campaign literature, of the current board (Chairman Donn Byrne, Norma Gammon, Gerald Silverman, William Dalton and Charles Wesson).

Whenever possible, the collection shows the selectmen as they looked when they were in office: thus the J. Everett Collins (1935-1956) of this book is not the white-haired, mustachioed gentleman so well-known to townspeople today, but a clean-shaven middle-aged man wearing wire-rimmed spectacles.

Some of the blank pages where no photographs could be found are filled with brief biographical sketches of the members, and obituaries for a few selectmen are included at the back of the notebook.

But for the most part, the portraits, names and dates alone tell their story. The selectman who served the greatest number of years, for instance, was Samuel H. Boutwell, who was in office for 23 years (1882-1891, 1891-1900, and 1900-1905). He is followed by Mr. Collins, with 21 years; and Walter S. Donald (1905-1923) and Sidney P. White (1949-1961, 1966-1972), with 18 years each.

Ten years ago, Janet D. Lake was the

The only photograph that could be found of Brooks F. Holt (1888-1889); he is shown standing.

J. Everett Collins as he appeared during his tenure as a selectman (1935-1956).

Selectmen

first woman elected to the office; she served until 1977. Only four women have served on the board, including Virginia H. Cole (1978-1979), Susan T. Poore (1976-1982) and Mrs. Gammon, who was elected in 1979 and re-elected in 1982.

When Andover split with North Andover and was incorporated as a separate town in April 1855, the first Board of Selectmen was elected to serve as assessors and overseers of the poor.

The first three-member board consisted of George Foster (1855-1858, 1859-1861, 1863-1865), Enoch Frye III (1855-1856) and Jonas Holt (1855-1856). As noted above, none of their portraits appear in the book.

Andover enlarged its Board of Selectmen to include five members with the enactment of the town manager charter 101 years later, in July 1956.

Mrs. Flanders began her search for the selectmen in January, assisted by Barbara Gaunt, the town manager's secretary. Working from Col. Harris's list, she began by sending letters to the 25 living former selectmen, or to the families of deceased selectmen.

Most of the former selectmen were "very enthusiastic" about the project, Alice says. "They thought it was a great idea." Former officials like B. Allen Rowland (1962-1964), Paul W. Cronin (1963-1966) and Milton Greenberg (1971-1977) submitted their photos "almost instantaneously. I thought it was going to be a snap."

After that early success, however, the going became a bit more difficult. Alice turned to the Andover Historical Society, where she found about six of the early selectmen's portraits (including the one of Joseph Rice) with the help of Marsha Rooney and Peg Hughes.

She spent time reading microfilm of old newspapers at Memorial Hall Library, and going through the TOWNSMAN's photo files. "From there I started getting desperate," Mrs. Flanders says, "and I went to the churches — West Parish and South Church were a lot of help."

Her research also took her to the Phillips Academy library, the North Andover Historical Society, and the vaults of the old Town Hall, where she found books like Historical Sketches of Andover, Massachusetts, published in 1880 and reprinted in 1974.

Newspapers like the old Andover Advertiser and Lawrence Evening Tribune were a rich source of photographs, Alice says, although some digging was necessary: Samuel Boutwell's picture was taken from an article about his golden

Volunteers

Beginning in January, Barbara Gard, the Arnold Arboretum's volunteer and tour coordinator, will host an eight-week tour guide training program. With the help of Arboretum staff and faculty, potential volunteer tour guides will participate in several weeks of classes, then have an opportunity to take walking tours with expert guides to see exactly how it is done.

The class work will focus on an introduction to botany, taxonomy and horticulture, in addition to learning about the people who helped make the Arboretum the renowned botanical institution it is today.

For more information, call or write Barbara Gard, c/o Arnold Arboretum, the Arborway, Jamaica Plain, MA 02130.

Christmas Tour

The Homeworks Guild of Andover presented its third annual Christmas Tour last weekend. Thirteen Andover homes opened their doors to shoppers allowing them to look and buy the many fine arts and crafts that were on display. Photos clockwise from upper left: Elsie Barlow, Methuen, admires the artwork on the sled; Tara Richards, 11, of Haverhill St. help set things up in the Brent's house; Cary Williams makes ribbons for the wreaths that were on sale as the family cat, Rinky-Dink, keeps her company; Steve and Molly Marsh of Reservation Road look at some homemade Christmas stockings while their three-month-old daughter, Lauren, prefers a nap; Nicole Benecasa of Concord and Polly Pyle of Tewksbury St. admire tree ornaments.

Elected Newspaper Director

Victor I. Paul, son of Igor and Natalie Paul, 36 Hidden Road, Andover, has been elected to the directorate of "The Dartmouth," a student-owned and operated daily newspaper at Dartmouth College. The new directorate, made up of the paper's publisher and editors, takes over all aspects of running the paper for a year with the start of the winter term. "The Dartmouth" is the oldest college newspaper in the United States, founded in 1799, with an estimated circulation of more than 11,000 readers.

Paul, a junior, is a member of Beta Theta Pi fraternity. He will serve as photography editor.

Dartmouth, the ninth oldest college in the United States and the northernmost of the Ivy League institutions, operates on a four-term, year-round system. All four terms are equal and all entering students are required to attend at least one term in the four years during the summer.

Photos With Santa To Be Taken

Members of the Andover High School Golden Warriors Marching Band will take photos of individuals and groups with Santa on Friday, Dec. 7, as part of the Merchants Night festivities.

The photo session, sponsored by the Andover Band Parents Association, will be held at the old Town Hall on Main Street, from 7 p.m. and 9 p.m.

Proceeds will benefit the Andover band.

Members of the band will entertain shoppers with a concert of Christmas music during the festivities.

Collecting Toys For Center

Foster & Foster Real Estate will again conduct a company-wide toy drive throughout the Greater Boston area. Foster & Foster sales agents of the Lee Dodd Realty Division will call homeowners throughout the Andover area the first week of December to collect new and useable toys to be donated to the Professional Center for Handicapped Children in Andover and other needy children in the Merrimack Valley.

Please help Foster & Foster make this Christmas a happy one for all the children. Drop toys off at the Andover office, 68 Park St.

Lunch With Santa

Over 100 children and their parents enjoyed a Saturday lunch with Santa Claus at the St. Robert's Country Day School in Andover. The children were also entertained by a magician and a movie. Each child was given the chance to tell Santa what they wanted for Christmas and had a picture taken. McAllister Scholar At Bates

John B. McAllister, III, son of John and Beverly McAllister of Andover, is a Dana Scholar at Bates College, Lewiston, Maine.

Each year 20 Bates sophomores with strong academic backgrounds and leadership qualities are chosen as Dana Scholars, which they remain for the duration of their college careers. Their scholarship aid ranges from honorariums to substantial awards based on financial need.

The Dana Scholarship Program was established in 1950 through the Dana Foundation, begun by the late industrialist and philanthropist Charles A. Dana. The foundation assists colleges and universities with funds to improve educational programs.

Dana Chemistry Hall was built with the foundation's assistance and three Bates' faculty members have been named Charles A. Dana Professors, among the most prestigious honors bestowed at the college.

McAllister is a graduate of Phillips Academy.

Choral Groups Have Busy Schedule

The Andover High School Groups have a very busy December. The Choral Parent's Association announces the choral calendar for the coming months. The groups will participate at the Merchant's Night Uptown, Andover's annual family holiday event, on December 7. The high school chorus will perform its annual concert of seasonal music at the Andover Savings Bank at 10 a.m. on December 15. They will perform for WBZ's Dave Maynard for the benefit of Boston Children's Hospital on December 18 between 1 p.m. and 1:30 p.m. On December 21 they will present an in-school assembly and on Sunday, the 23rd, will appear on channel 4's program, "Show of Faith," at 10:30 a.m. as guests of Dr. Westy Egmont of Andover's South Church, the show's host.

All Andover High School chorus alumnae are invited to join current participants for an informal concert on Saturday, Dec. 29.

Showcase Premiere Is Benefit

The New England premiere of Francis Ford Coppola's long-awaited motion picture, "Cotton Club," will be celebrated in a series of three Massachusetts screenings for the benefit of the American Cancer Society's Massachusetts Division.

"Cotton Club" will premiere December 13 at Showcase Cinemas 1-4 in Lawrence. Reservations may be made by contacting the American Cancer Society toll-free at 1-800-592-7664.

"American Society volunteers across Massachusetts are excited about this opportunity to celebrate the New England premiere of 'Cotton Club' while raising needed funds to support cancer control," said Marilyn Rise-man, state special events chairman for the society. "We are most grateful to our 1985 state cancer crusade chairman, Sumner Redstone, whose Showcase Cinemas have made this series of premieres possible."

"Cotton Club," which stars Richard Gere, Gregory Hines and Diane Lane, is the story of the jazz-age heyday of Harlem's most notorious and glamorous nightclub.

Tiffany James, executive vice president of Undercoverwear in North Reading, is the Lawrence chairman.

"Forbidden Broadway" Tickets Selling Fast

Forbidden Broadway Cast

The ticket demand has been overwhelming. Public response to the recent announcement that the Boston production of "Forbidden Broadway" will appear in Andover has created a fervor of excitement at the J. Everett Collins Center for the Performing Arts, Shawsheen Road, Andover.

Scheduled for one performance only on Saturday, Dec. 15, at 8 p.m., "Forbidden Broadway" will bring the critically acclaimed Boston cast and production of the hit musical comedy revue to Andover.

The Collins Center has announced special box office hours on Saturday, Dec. 8, from noon to 4 p.m. to handle the continued high demand for tickets.

"Forbidden Broadway" parodies Broadway's brightest stars and hits, spoofing such luminaries as Twiggy, Tommy Tune, Yul Brynner, the legendary Carol Channing and Ethel Merman, as well as such hits as "Evita," "Cats," "Annie" and "La Cage aux Folles."

The Boston cast of Jeffrey Bannon, Toni DiBuono, Brad Ellis, Karen Murphy and Craig Wells will start in the Andover production.

Since its opening, tickets have been at a premium and most performances in the cabaret-style theatre have been sold out.

Tickets for "Forbidden Broadway" are available at the Collins Center Box Office, Andover and North Andover branches of Andover Savings Bank and Just For You, 36 Main St., Andover.

All Collins Center program advertisers are asked to call the center for a special discount bonus for all their employees.

Christmas Concert At Bradford

A concert of Music for Christmas will be presented by the Bradford-Pentucket Chorale on Sunday, Dec. 9, at Sacred Hearts Church, Bradford, at 8 p.m. The concert, directed by Mark N. Peterson of the Bradford music faculty, will feature Vivaldi's "Concerto in C Major" for two trumpets and orchestra, Mozart's motet, "Exsultate, jubilate" for soprano and orchestra and Vivaldi's "Gloria" for chorus, soloists and orchestra.

Members of the chorale and soloists Jane Cormier Peterson, soprano, and Jane Struss, mezzo-soprano, will be accompanied by a chamber orchestra, Natalo A. Paella and Cheryl Allen, trumpeters, and Bonnie Gibbons, pianist, a Bradford graduate.

Peterson, a Bradford alumna, formerly of Andover, has performed as soprano soloist for the chorale for the past six seasons. She has studied at the Boston Conservatory and was a student this summer at the American Institute of Musical Studies in Graz, Austria.

Struss, a member of the Bradford music faculty, has appeared throughout the Boston area with most of the established musical organizations, including the Boston Philharmonic Orchestra. She made her Carnegie Hall debut in October 1983 in a performance that was highly acclaimed by music critics. Trained at Boston University, Struss also studied with the late Ludwig Bergmann. Following a concert at Boston's Sanders Theatre, the Boston Globe reported, "Jane Struss' vocal beauty and commanding artistry transformed the Boston, Cecilia's otherwise merely distinguished recent performances of Bach's B Minor Mass into an experience not to be forgotten."

Paella and Allen are freelance trumpeters who teach at the University of Lowell and perform with the Indian Hill Chamber Orchestra and at the North Shore Music Theatre. Paella appeared with the Boston Pops and Boston Symphony Orchestra for 15 years under the direction of the late Arthur Fiedler.

Tickets are on sale in the public relations office, Room 131, Academy Hall, and will be available the night of the performance.

Dickens Classic In Lowell

"A Christmas Carol," the Charles Dickens holiday classic, will be presented by the Merrimack Repertory Theatre from December 14-23 in a new production that combines actors, props, costumes, music, children and on-stage effects in a unique staging.

Dickens' novel has been newly re-adapted for the stage and directed by Larry Carpenter, the artistic director of the American Stage Festival in Milford, N.H., who has directed "Uncommon Women" for the Huntington Theatre Company in Boston and MRT's production of "The Seven Year Itch" several years ago.

The professional cast features Robin Chadwick as Scrooge. He starred in the BBCTV serial of "The Brothers" and has appeared in national and international repertory theatres. Also appearing are: Richard Bowne as Scrooge's nephew; Edmund Davys as Christmas Present; Elizabeth A. Dickinson as Christmas Future; Pat Dougan as Christmas Past; Richard Maynard as Bob Cratchit; William Miller as Marley's Ghost; and Alice White as Mrs. Cratchit.

This Christmas class will open on Friday, Dec. 14, at 7:30 p.m. Performances are Tuesday through Saturday at 7:30 p.m., Saturday matinee at 2 p.m. and Sunday at 4 p.m. Reservations and season subscriptions are available through the box office.

Lowell children getting a special opportunity to work with this professional cast include Arthur Fascione, Allistair Former, John Griffith, Melissa Luce, Brent Rourke, Elizabeth Sheehy, Dina Veillette and Laura Veino. David Hilliard is also appearing in the play.

In 1783 Noah Webster published his "American Spelling Book." Its estimated sales in the next 100 years were 70 million.

Holiday Concerts In Schools

Andover's public schools have scheduled their holiday concerts, the first of which is set for next Tuesday, Dec. 11, when West Elementary students will be featured at their Beacon Street school.

The next day, Wednesday, Dec. 12, the Bancroft School children will entertain friends and relatives at that school's concert, at the Bancroft Road school. All concerts will begin at 7:30 p.m., said music Program Advisor Diana Kolben.

On Thursday, Dec. 13, South School students will perform at their school, on Woburn Street. And on Tuesday, Dec. 18, the Doherty Junior High students have scheduled their holiday concert to be held at the Bartlet Street school. On Wednesday, Dec. 19, the West Junior High schoolers will sing at their Shawsheen Road school, followed lastly by neighbors at the high school, on Dec. 21, when the Andover High School students will present a holiday program that Kolben said will probably begin during the last period of the day, at 1:20 p.m., in the J. Everett Colling Center for the Performing Arts.

All concerts are free and open to the public, said Kolben.

To Present "Messiah" At College

One of the Christmas season's true musical masterworks will be performed Sunday, Dec. 16, at Merrimack College in North Andover at 3 p.m.

George Frederic Handel's oratorio, "Messiah," will be performed in the Collegiate Church of Christ the Teacher at 3 p.m. by the Indian Hill Chamber Orchestra, conducted by Prof. Benjamin Cogen. Featured soloists will include soprano Judith Kellock, countertenor Jeffrey Gall, tenor Ray DeVoll and bass Robert Honeysucker.

A favorite work of the Christmas season, "Messiah" is performed in three parts: the prophecies and the birth of the Messiah, the salvation of humankind through His suffering and death and salvation through the Resurrection of Christ. "Messiah" is best known and acclaimed for its choruses, including "For Unto Us a Child is Born," "The Glory of the Lord," "Lift Up Your Heads, O Ye Gates," "And We Like Sheep" and the magnificent "Hallelujah Chorus."

This concert, the second event in the 1984-85 Merrimack College Concert Series, will be a complete performance of the 1742 Dublin version of Handel's oratorio.

Founded in 1975, the Indian Hill Chamber Orchestra has become known throughout New England for its quality musicianship and versatility. The orchestra has performed chamber works from the baroque to the modern period, choral works and opera. Members of the orchestra are all professional musicians and teachers of music at area schools and colleges.

Kellock has appeared as soloist with the St. Louis Symphony, the Minnesota Orchestra, the Pro Arte Chamber Orchestra and the Aspen Festival Orchestra. She is on the voice faculty at the Longy School of Music.

Gall came to national prominence in the title role of Handel's "Orlando" at the American Repertory Theatre. He has performed at La Scala and the Teatro di San Carlo, as well as with the Festwoche der Alten Music at Innsbruck, the Spoleto and the Edinburgh Festivals. Gall has recorded a program of Handel's music which will be heard in 1985 on National Public Radio in a commemoration of the great composer's work.

DeVoll, a member of the voice faculty at the New England Conservatory, was tenor soloist with the New York Pro Musica Antiqua for 12 years, touring around the world with the group. He has sung at major festivals around the country and regionally with the Pro Arte Chamber Orchestra, the Boston Cecilia Society, the Master Singers and Monadnock Music. DeVoll appeared in the nationally televised "Play of Daniel" from The Cloisters and has sung major roles with the Boston Lyric Opera. He is tenor soloist on the first American recording of the "Requiem" of Hector Berlioz.

A native of Memphis, Honeysucker was the winner of this year's National Opera Association Artists Award. He has performed across the country in Europe in such operas as "Orlando," "Turandot," "Il Trovatore" and "Madame Butterfly." Honeysucker created the role of Daedalus in the world premiere of Paul Earl's "Icarus" at the Brucknerfest in Linz, Austria.

Cogen's musical studies have included violin, solfège, harmony, counterpoint, conducting, orchestration, composition and musicology. Chairman of the physics department at Merrimack College, Cogen also teaches a course in music theory in the fine arts department. He has conducted the Pythagorean Orchestra as well as the Indian Hill Chamber Orchestra. Cogen has also played violin and viola in several area orchestras and chamber groups.

Tickets may be reserved by calling or writing to Concert Series, Merrimack College, North Andover, MA 01845.

Two other concerts are planned as part of this year's Concert Series at Merrimack College. The New York Vocal Arts Ensemble will perform a program of rarely-heard vocal chamber music, including selections from the works of classical masters to the gems of American folk music, on Thursday, March 14. The Indian Hill Chamber Orchestra will return on Sunday, April 28, with soloist Victor Rosenbaum performing Beethoven's Piano Concerto No. 4 in G major.

To Present "Happy End"

"Happy End," the Bertolt Brecht/Kurt Weill play, will be presented at Bradford College Thursday, Friday, Saturday, Dec. 6, 7, and 8 in Denworth Hall at 8 p.m.

"Happy End," directed by Kim Mancuso of the Bradford drama faculty, is a story many theatregoers (and moviegoers) will find familiar: beautiful Salvation Army girl, Lillian, meets and falls in love with a Chicago gangster, Bill Cracker ("Guys and Dolls"). The problems that ensue are both hilarious and bittersweet as both sides of justice battle for the souls of Chicago.

Written in 1929, "Happy End" was the logical followup to the box office success "Threepenny Opera." Brecht, was, unfortunately, unable to lead a double life as a political playwright and a popular playwright, trying to compromise between Marxism and Showbiz. On opening night the first two acts were well received and it seemed as though this show might rival "Threepenny Opera's" success. But, during the third act, Brecht's wife, Helene Weigel, in one of the leading roles, shouted Marxist slogans and read from pamphlets, provoking a hostile and tumultuous reaction among the audience and causing the potentially successful play to flop. It was rediscovered and revived in the early 1970s by the Yale Repertory Theatre with Meryl Streep in the leading role.

According to Mancuso, "Happy End's" music is one of the best Kurt Weill ever wrote, including the "Bilbao Song," the "Mandaly Song" and "Sureabya Johnny," which has in recent years been revived by Bette Midler. "This is a play for all generations; a play which has remarkable things to say in these times," she added.

The play will be performed in a cabaret format with music performed by Bradford students and refreshments served before the show and during intermission.

Tickets are available in the public relations office, Academy Hall. Special group rates are also available.

Holiday Activities For AFS

The American Field Service Club at Andover High School is busy with holiday activities. The club will sell carnations on December 20. This fundraiser will also be done for Valentine's Day and St. Patrick's Day. "Secret Santas" are busy doing special holiday things for club members and will be unveiled at the annual Christmas party.

The club officers have planned an International Weekend in February and there will be a short-term exchange later with a community in Vermont. This year's officers are Jeff Shupe, president; Melissa Marquis, vice president; Julie Williams, secretary; Kim Olsen, treasurer.

This year Andover High School is hosting Jesus Gonzales from Spain. The club is looking for prospective host families for next year. Anyone interested should call Jean Pendergrass, high school advisor, or Marsha Johnson, host family chairman.

Ballet

Salem State College will sponsor "The Nutcracker," performed by The Connecticut Ballet Company, Friday, Dec. 7, at 8 p.m. and Saturday, Dec. 8, at 2 p.m. and 8 p.m. in the College Main Stage Auditorium, Lafayette Street, Salem. All tickets are reserved.

Open a Lawrence Savings Bank IRA or KEOGH Account

Retirement accounts at Lawrence Savings Bank aren't only for the future. If you open an IRA or KEOGH Account now, you can deduct your contribution from your taxable income reported to the IRS. You also defer taxes on the interest earned until you begin to make withdrawals. That's a savings in tax dollars now, and an extra retirement income later.

Choose from high paying investment options

You can open either an IRA or KEOGH with as little as $10. We'll help you select from a full range of fixed and variable rate certificates. Whatever size contribution you make to your account, you'll earn competitive market rates.

Lawrence Savings Bank handles the paperwork

We're offering a free "Personal IRA Benefits Analysis" to every Lawrence Savings Bank IRA customer. If you're ready to open, add to, or move your IRA or KEOGH to Lawrence Savings Bank, we'll handle all the paperwork. Or, if you prefer, we'll talk directly with your accountant. Palenski-Allen

Mrs. Paul E. Palenski

St. Peter's Episcopal Church in Osterville was the setting for the recent wedding of Stephanie Sue Allen to Paul Edward Palenski. The Rev. Raymond W. Webster performed the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Nancy R. Allen of Osterville and George G. Allen of Norwalk, Conn., formerly of Fairfield, Conn., and the granddaughter of Mrs. Roger M. Rowe of Greenwich and Theodore F. Allen of Darien, Conn. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs.

Edward A. Palenski of Andover and the grandson of the late Mr. and Mrs. Paul J. Kazura of Lawrence.

Allison Bailey of New York City was maid of honor. Bridesmaids included Mrs. John Gilmore of Hampton, N.H., cousin of the bride; Mrs. Gordon Luciano of Easton, sister of the groom; and Mrs. William McPadden of Bridgeport, Conn. Junior bridal attendants were Hilary Rowe of Greenwich, Conn., and Kimberly LaTorraca of Scituate.

Timothy Craig Allen of Fairfield, Conn., brother of the bride, was best man. Ushers were Peter Gill Allen of Stratford, Conn.; Theodore Ferguson Allen of Darien, Conn., and Parker Burr Allen of Norwalk, Conn., brothers of the bride, Gordon Luciano of Easton and Peter Bobryk of Westford.

The reception was held at the New Seabury Country Club, following the ceremony.

The bride, an alumna of Roger Ludlow High School and Colby-Sawyer College, is an utilization review coordinator for the Massachusetts Health Institute in Boston.

Her husband, a graduate of The Thomas Moore School in Harrisville, N.H., and Bradford College, is a sporting goods consultant for Ski Haus Inc. of Massachusetts.

After returning from a wedding trip to Nantucket, the couple is residing in Salem.

A Hint

About Lint

Very light or dark carpeting in one color shows up lint. So does velvet finish or plus carpeting. For those high traffic areas around the house, select easy-to-keep-clean carpeting in a patterned motif.

Support

Group Meets

How to plan for the future of a disabled child will be the topic of discussion for the Easter Seal Parent Support Group at the Reading Library on December 6 at 7:30 p.m.

Susan Fliegel, Easter Seal Society social worker, will head the meeting and address questions concerning the "Turning 22 Bill," educational and vocational programs and advocacy issues for persons with disabilities.

Organized for parents of physically disabled children and teenagers, the Easter Seal Parent Support Group provides information about resources and the opportunity for mutual self help.

For further information, contact the East Seal Society, 20 Ballard Road, Lawrence.

Huzar-Donovan

Mrs. Douglas Edward Huzar

Jane Beth Donovan, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William D. Donovan of 20 Flint Circle, Andover, was married to Douglas Edward Huzar, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Huzar of 114 Pawnee Road, Cranford, N.J., on Saturday, October 6, at St. Joseph's Church in Andover.

The Rev. Terrance W. Hyland, O.S.A., of St. Augustine's parish, Andover, officiated at the eleven o'clock ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of imported English lace, styled with puff sleeves and highlighted by beaded appliques of pearls and crystals. Her circular skirt was edged with satin scallops, and fell to a full cathedral train. She wore a matching headpiece of silk flowers and pearls, and carried a colonial bouquet of white roses, daisies, and lilly of the valley mingled with baby's breath, stephanotis and ivy.

Christine Donovan of Andover, the bride's sister, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Peter Malaguti of Stoneham, the bride's sister; Irene Demers of Andover; Nancy Huzar of Cranford, N.J., the groom's sister; and Mrs. Timothy Birner of Beverly. They wore gowns of rose English lace, styled with off-the-shoulder necklines and edged in satin. They wore floral clips in their hair, and carried colonial bouquets of lavender roses, baby's breath, and rose carnations with heather and ivy.

Michael Huzar of Cranford, N.J., the groom's brother, was best man. Ushers were Timothy Birner of Beverly; James Keckler of West Palm Beach, Florida; Dean Giovenallo of New York; and Mark Bazar of Hollywood, Florida.

The church was decorated with pedestal arrangements of white Rubrum lilies, snapdragons and greens. The pews were marked with white bows and floral arrangements.

The bride's mother wore a pearl gray dress accented with a white ruffled neckline and sleeves. The groom's mother chose a mauve ensemble highlighted by cranberry accessories. Both mothers wore corsages of roses to complement their outfits.

Workshop

A children's workshop to create small holiday trees will take place Saturday, Dec. 15, at 10:30 a.m. in the Peabody Museum of Salem, East India Square, Salem. Parents should come to help the children.

A reception was held following the ceremony at the Sheraton-Rolling Green Inn in Andover. Out-of-town guests were present from California, Florida, New York and New Jersey.

The bride is a 1979 graduate of Andover High School, and a 1983 graduate of Wheelock College, Boston. She is employed as a teacher at St. Mary's School, West Palm Beach, Florida.

Her husband is a graduate of Cranford High School, Cranford, N.J., and a 1983 graduate of Massachusetts College of Pharmacy, Boston. He is employed as a pharmacist in Hobe Sound, Florida.

Following a wedding trip to Vermont and New Hampshire, the couple is residing in Jupiter, Florida.

Coping With Holiday Blues Session Topic

This may be the season to be jolly but for a lot of people, especially those who are single or alone, the holidays can be a depressing time of year. To help those without partners cope with the holiday blues, Bon Secours Hospital is sponsoring a program entitled "Singles: Beating the Holiday Blues" on Tuesday, Dec. 11, at 7:30 p.m. in the hospital's auditorium, 70 East St., Methuen. The program, second in the 1984-85 Healthy Issue series, will be a panel discussion moderated by Kathy Murphy, R.N. Murphy holds a master's degree in Community Health with a focus on the family.

Panel members include: Linda Feinberg, MSW, LICSW, founder and director of Young Widows and Widowers, Ltd., a support and social group with chapters in Andover, Boston and Framingham; and Anne Arsenault, director of special programs for the division of continuing education at Merrimack College, North Andover, who holds a Ph.D. in Adult Education. Arsenault is involved in developing community outreach programs and social support systems. They will discuss the traditional images of holidays and family gatherings versus the realities faced by single people and non-traditional families. Dorothy Hollenbeck and Hal Rogers, group leaders from The Single Life, a singles social organization, will share creative ideas and offer practical alternatives to traditional holiday celebrations.

All singles, whether by choice, divorce, separation or the death of a spouse, are invited and encouraged to attend this free program. The Healthy Issues series is provided as a public service by the Bon Secours Hospital education department.

Coffeehouse

The Greater Lawrence Chapter of the National Organization for Women will sponsor a coffeehouse at the North Parish Unitarian Church in Old North Andover Center (across from Hayscales) on Wednesday, Dec. 12, at 7:30 p.m.

Women singers and poets will speak out about women's lives and issues. There will be an art exhibit by women artists.

Appetizers, dessert and coffee will be served.

Preparing Greens

Mrs. Paul King, left, and Mrs. Joseph Mesiks of the Andover Garden Club prepare wreaths in anticipation of the Christmas Greens Fair to be held Saturday.

Christmas Greens Fair Saturday

Members and friends of the Andover Garden Club are looking forward to Saturday, Dec. 8, the date selected for the club's festive Christmas Greens Fair to be held at the November Club, 6 Locke St., downtown Andover, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. The fair has been in the planning stage since late summer and has been centered around a series of creative workshops.

Members holding workshops throughout the last four months are Mrs. Vito Frazzette, grapevine wreaths; Mrs. Thomas B. Noyes, hydrangea wreaths; Mrs. Richard Bucher, dried herb wreaths; Mrs. John Boshar, decorative gift bows; Mrs. Charles Currier, mulled cider; Mrs. James Gilmore, painted baskets; Mrs. Irving Rogers, Jr., ribbon wreaths; Mrs. Alfred Syick, table evergreen trees; Mrs. Michael Brink, evergreen wreaths; Mrs. Richard Bucher, decorated wreaths; Mrs. Norman Frost, rope greens; Miss Alice Murray, clothespin toys; Mrs. George Monks, tree ornaments; and Mrs. Salvatore Basile, evergreen wreaths.

Four of the club's most accomplished arrangers, Mrs. Robert Lange, Mrs. Frost, Mrs. Bucher and Mrs. Ralph Hill, will decorate wreaths to custom order during the sale.

Another feature of the Christmas Greens Fair will be unique, one-of-a-kind creations done by talented club artists. Mrs. Hill will contribute a baby's breath tree, Mrs. Frazzette is planning a decorated grapevine tree, Mrs. James Cowdery will offer cornucopias and Mrs. Lange will present dramatic topiary trees.

Assistance Requested

Mentally retarded residents of the John T. Berry Rehabilitation Center, Route 62, North Reading, would greatly benefit from holiday efforts by community groups and individuals. Ruth Nathans, Berry unit director, said that "we hope to hear from outside groups interested in sharing holiday entertainment and gifts. Many of our residents have no close relatives making community contributions particularly beneficial to clients this time of year."

Garden Club Decorates Library

The Spade and Trowel Garden Club of Andover provided the Memorial Hall Library's Childrens Room with a little Christmas spirit as they placed decorations around the room last week. Photos clockwise from upper left: Fred Eugley, custodian for the library, makes sure wreath is on straight with the guidance of Marian Mufson, Civic-Beautification chairman; Florence Andersen, treasurer, hangs her own wreath; Lucy Keegan places decorations around windows; Lillian Sherman, conservation chairman, gets a Christmas bird cage ready for hanging.

Sisterhood To Hear Dr. Larsen

The Sisterhood of Temple Emanuel will hold their general meeting at the temple, 7 Haggetts Pond Road, Andover, on December 12 at 7:30 p.m. Dr. Larry Larsen will speak on "The Power to Live, the Power to Heal" and "Lessons Children have Taught me in 20 Years of Practice."

Dr. Larsen is a combination of teacher, clinical psychologist and writer. He received his undergraduate degree, majoring in Latin and Greek, and a master's degree in Philosophy and Religion at Baylor University. After graduate study at Yale University Divinity School, he earned a second master's degree in Experimental Psychology from Wesleyan University in Middletown, Conn. He achieved the Doctor of Philosophy degree in Clinical Psychology from Boston University. Prior to his education in Clinical Psychology, Dr. Larsen became an ordained minister and pastored the Grace Church in Meriden, Conn. He has written for a number of professional journals and been a consultant to a variety of institutions and public schools, including Methuen and Lawrence.

The evening will include questions and answers and coffee and dessert.

New Year Program Offered

The Department of Community Services will participate in the Ninth Annual New Year's Celebration of the Arts in Boston on Monday, Dec. 31. A bus will leave the rear of Andover Town Offices at 7 p.m. and return at approximately 1 a.m.

Fee will include round-trip transportation into Boston and a First Night Button, good for admission to more than 100 performances to be held city-wide.

Dance, mime, storytelling, music, laser-lights, fireworks and a host of events will take place throughout the city until midnight.

A First Night program flyer and additional information will be available at the DCS office in the Town Offices, Bartlet Street, by mid-December. Office hours are from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday.

Studying In Italy

Karen Jo Giammusso, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael R. Giammusso, Summer Street, Andover, is studying in Florence, Italy, as part of the junior year abroad program at Colby College, Waterville, Maine.

Giammusso, a junior majoring in English and Spanish, is a graduate of Andover High School.

The first European monarch to own a motor car was King Leopold of Belgium, who had a car especially built for him in 1898.

Holiday Brunch For Regis Club

The Regis College Club of Greater Lawrence will celebrate the holiday season on Sunday, Dec. 9. Alumnae members will meet for 11 a.m. Mass at Merrimack College Chapel and gather afterwards for a holiday brunch at the Sword and Shield Restaurant, North Andover. Rep. Donna P. Sytek (R-Salem), recently resigned chairwoman of the New Hampshire Republican Party and current candidate for New Hampshire Secretary of State, will speak of the intricacies of political life from the vantage point of a seasoned legislator.

The tradition of sharing with people in need will be continued with members being asked to bring warm, practical articles of clothing wrapped for distribution by area support groups. Chairwoman Pat King is once again coordinating this Christmas donation.

All Regis alumnae are invited to attend. For further information, contact any one of the following officers: Mrs. Maureen Kelly, North Andover, president; Mrs. Beth Rockett, Methuen, vice president; Mrs. Joanne Byrnes, Salem, secretary; Mrs. Barbara McLarney, Andover, treasurer.

Christmas Tea For Newcomers

Members of the Andover-North Andover Newcomers Club are invited to attend a Christmas Tea at the home of the club's president, Marcia Brown, 10 Peach Tree Path, Andover, on Tuesday, Dec. 11, from 1 p.m. to 3:30 p.m. No reservations are necessary and there is no charge.

The couples Holiday Cheer Party will be held Saturday, Dec. 8, at the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Coutermarsh and Mr. and Mrs. John Thomas. Members will receive notification by mail as to which party they are to attend.

The December Recipe Luncheon will be held at the home of Antoinette Fischer, 700 Middleton Road, North Andover, on Thursday, Dec. 13, at 12 noon. This luncheon will feature a Christmas cookie swap and reservations may be made by contacting Mrs. Fischer.

Membership in Newcomers is open to all new residents of the Andovers. Anyone interested in joining should contact Katie Vehlou, 8 Island Way, Andover, or Kathy Savage, 66 Bonny Lane, North Andover.

Holiday Coffee Planned

La Leche League of Andover will hold a Holiday Coffee, to benefit LLL International, on Monday, Dec. 10, at the home of Cyndia Givens, 14 Marland St., Andover, from 9:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. The organization is raising funds to update their services and provide more effective leadership to their 3,662 groups located in the U.S. and throughout 43 other countries.

The local chapter invites any woman who is presently associated with LLL or has been in the past to come and show their support. Donations are requested.

The leaders welcome women who feel that La Leche League has enhanced their mothering experience to join them in saying thank you to LLL International. Children are also welcome.

Any woman who cannot attend, but feels that she has benefited the help of LLL, is welcome to mail a contribution to Cyndi Givens.

The next monthly meetings for the area will be at the home of Cyndi Givens on December 13 at 8 p.m. and at the Greater Lawrence Family Health Institute, 150 Park St., Lawrence, on December 20 at 9:30 a.m.

This month's discussion will concern "Nutrition and Weaning." Interested women and nursing babies are welcome.

Christmas Celebration Tuesday

Food, gifts and decorations will all be part of the fun at the Spade and Trowel Garden Club Christmas celebration on Tuesday, Dec. 11. Club members will enjoy appetizers at the home of Lucy Keegan and then progress to desserts at the home of Lee MacGowen. Each of these homes has been decorated for the holidays by members of the club. A Yankee Swap will climax the evening. Helga Frazzette, Dot Gulezian, Belva Hopkins, Dot Kylberg, Mary Laratonda and Neila Merrill are co-hostesses.

The Spade and Trowel Gardeners decorated the Children's Room of the library for Christmas. They have been making holiday craft decorations to sell at the Massachusetts Garden Club Federation "Holiday Happening" on December 6, 7 and 8 at the Wellesley Community Center.

Driscoll-Wojtkun

Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius J. Driscoll, Jr.

Mary Elizabeth Wojtkun, the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Bruno S. Wojtkun of 1042 Ocean Blvd., Hampton, N.H., was married to Cornelius Joseph Driscoll, Jr., the son of Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius J. Driscoll, Sr., of 431 Howard St., Lawrence, on October 28 at St. Mary's Church, Lawrence.

Father Bob Guessetto officiated at the two o'clock, double-ring ceremony. The bride, given in marriage by her parents, wore an ivory satin gown and a lace court veil, and carried an arrangement of dried flowers.

Christina Wojtkun of Andover was the bride's maid of honor, and Susan Wojtkun, the bride's sister, was bridesmaid. Junior bridesmaids were Tanya LaVallee, Nina LaVallee and Sonja Wojtkun, nieces of the bride. Heather and Jennifer Wojtkun, Andrea Wojtkun and Lauren Smith were flower girls.

Patrick Driscoll of Lawrence was the groom's best man. Ushers were James Driscoll, the groom's brother, and James MacDonald, James Remmes, Nicholas Napoli, Joseph Jamison, and Anthony Capani, the groom's brother-in-law.

Eric Wojtkun was the guest book attendant.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the Andover Country Club, Andover, attended by 150 guests.

Fashion Tip

There's less emphasis on bold contrasts in 1958 styles—more on a harmonious mix of several shades of the same color, accented with a neutral. An example: pale blue, mid-blue and navy accented with a taupe.

Gray hosiery can often come in handy when a neutral color is needed to add a special touch to an outfit.

The bride is a graduate of Andover High School, Plymouth State College and Katherine Gibbs School. She is employed as a secretary with Standard Duplicating Machines Corp. of Andover.

Her husband is a graduate of Lawrence High School and Bridgewater State College. He is employed by Raytheon Co. of Andover.

Following a wedding trip to Sarasota, Florida, the couple is living in Salem, N.H.

To Host Peace Service

St. Robert Bellarmine Roman Catholic Church will host the third in a series of nine Ecumenical Peace Services on Tuesday, Dec. 11, at 7:30 p.m. Each of the monthly prayer services, sponsored by one of ten participating Andover churches, will feature a unique format and message incorporating time for prayer, meditation and study.

Established this fall by the Andover Ecumenical Peace Group, the Peace Services offer a special opportunity to witness to God's call to be peacemakers. Participating Andover churches have also joined to sponsor the Andover Peace

Covenant, a personal covenant with one's God to pray, study and open dialogue about peace and to join in support of all others who are working for peace.

Tuesday's service, coordinated by Fr. William Mullin, will focus on readings from Isaiah Chapter 7, "The Prince of Peace." Fr. Terrance Highland of St. Augustine's Church will offer a brief introduction to the Roman Catholic Bishop's Letter, following the service.

The service is open to all. Noted Fr. Mullin, "We are trying to create a non-threatening environment for prayer and sharing. We recognize differences in our political and religious understandings. We must share these in ways that lead to dialogue and respect." A special copy of the Andover Peace Covenant, for members of the Andover community who are not affiliated with one of the participating churches, will be available at the service.

Summer Program

Hellenic College/Holy Cross Greek Orthodox School of Theology in Brookline will offer a summer academic program which will include a full range of undergraduate and graduate courses and one-week seminars.

The first session is May 28-July 12 and the second session is July 15-August 23. The one-week seminars during each session will be held June 17-22 and August 19-24.

For further information, contact Fr. Christopher Metropoulos, Dean of admissions and records.

To Discuss Plants Of The Bible

The St. Bonaventure Fellowship will present an illustrated lecture on "The Plants of the Bible" on December 11 at 7:30 p.m. in the Christian Formation Center.

The lecture will be given by John L. Finneran, professor of botanical science at Northern Essex Community College. Theologians and scientists have been intrigued by the plants and plant products mentioned in the Old and New Testaments. This lecture will focus on the symbolic meaning of these plants and how many have continued to be meaningful in present-day society. All are welcome.

Pastor To Host Open House

The Rev. Gary S. Cornell, pastor of the Ballard Vale United Church (United Methodist Church and United Church of Christ) and his family will host their annual open house at the church's parsonage for members and friends this Sunday from 4 p.m. to 7 p.m. The congregation will mark the second Sunday of Advent this Sunday at the 10:30 a.m. service with a Celebration of the Sacrament of Holy Baptism. The preaching theme is "The Road to Bethlehem." Church school for youth and adults is at 9:30 a.m. and for children at 10:30 a.m.

To Discuss Pastoral Letter

Please note the dates for picking up tickets for the Elks Club Christmas parties. Pickup date for the December 16 party is tomorrow, Dec. 7, at 10 a.m. and for the December 21 party, next Friday, Dec. 14. The tickets are free but the number is quite limited. Distribution will begin at 10 a.m. and continue until all the tickets are gone. This annual event is always most popular, so, if you want to go, you must get down to the center early to get a ticket.

The Council on Aging Christmas Party will be held December 20 at 1 p.m. There is no charge, but reservations are required because space is limited. Call the senior center and let them know you want to come.

There are still a few seats left for "Jerry's Girls," the production starring Carol Channing, Leslie Uggams and Andrea McArdle, for the Wednesday, Dec. 19 matinee performance. Cost is $31 which includes transportation and orchestra seats. Why not make yourself an early Christmas present?

The Haven Associates are having their annual Christmas Party Monday, Dec. 17, at 2 p.m. Please note this date. The Haven Associates have published a list of trips for 1985 for your interest and attention: Music Festival at brown's in the catskills in April; Trinkus Manor in the Adirondacks in May; Cape Cod in June; Pennsylvania Dutch Country in September and San Francisco, three islands in Hawaii and Las Vegas in October. For further information, call Virginia Butcher at 475-0146. The regular meeting of the Haven Associates is held the third Thursday of each month with their board of directors meeting the Thursday before in the conference room of Town Hall. The Christmas party will be held in the senior center.

It may seem too early to think about after the holidays, but it really is not. Especially if you've done a lot of stuffing yourself, as well as the turkey. Why not sign up now for an early January Body-wise class. exercise that can be as challenging as you want it to be. Everything can be done in a chair, if that is what you feel equal to doing, or can be as strenuous as getting down on the floor. We need at least 12 to sign up for a class to begin early in January. It will cost $7.50 for eight weeks, but you'll love the fun of it, and all the time you're really taking care of yourself. Stop by the center and leave your $7.50 to sign up. We can not have the class with fewer people, so, please, those of us who are already signed up need you.

The next mini-clinic will be held at the Walsh Room at Stowe Court on Tuesday, Dec. 11, from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. Appointments must be made in advance by calling the Andover health department. The regular Wednesday blood pressure clinic is held every Wednesday at the senior center from 2 p.m. to 3 p.m., no appointment required.

Memorial Hall Library

Let's Discuss

Memorial Hall Library's three book discussion groups meet during the next week. The Morning group will meet Monday, Dec. 10, at 10 a.m. to discuss Russell Baker's "Growing Up." The Great Books Discussion Group concludes its fall series with "The Camp of the Saints" by Raspaill on Tuesday, Dec. 11, at 7:30 p.m. They will meet at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Elmer, 2 Chestnut St., Andover, for this meeting only. The Management Book Discussion Group will meet in the library on Thursday, Dec. 13, at 7:30 p.m. to discuss "Megatrends" by John Nesebitt. All discussion groups welcome new participants at any time.

Christmas Is A-Coming!

Memorial Hall Library is festively observing the holiday season with decorations by the Four Seasons Garden Club and a special display of Christmas angels provided by members of the staff. The annual Christmas gift book brochure is also available for patrons. Included are books recommended for giving by the Memorial Hall Library staff. And, with the heavy Christmas shopping season in mind, another free Memorial Hall Library publication, "May We Help You with Your Consumer Problems?", is available to help patrons avoid or resolve common consumer problems and get the most for their money.

Births

OWENS — A son, Christopher Hudson, Nov. 26 at Maine Medical Center to Dr. and Mrs. William B. Owens, Jr. of Cape Elizabeth, Maine. The mother is the former Beth Gower. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Gower of Andover, and Mr. and Mrs. William B. Owens of Simsbury, Conn.

O'LEARY — A son, Timothy Ryan O'Leary, Nov. 7 in Toowoomba, Queensland, Australia, to Thomas and Elaine O'Leary. Paternal grandparents are Thomas and Mary O'Leary, 43 Wildwood Road, Andover. Maternal grandparents are Lucille Kidd, St. Louis, Mo., and Carl Kidd, also of Missouri.

WOO — A daughter, Lauren Katherine, Nov. 27 at Brigham and Women's Hospital, Boston, to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Woo of 64 Jenkins Road, Andover. The mother is the former Laraine Lellman.

Children's Room News By Bridget Bennett

Knowing that any child on your Christmas list will enjoy receiving a book, the Children's Room has prepared a helpful list of suggestions of outstanding titles for all ages, published recently and available in local bookstores.

The Spade and Trowel Garden Club and the Andover Garden Club Junior Gardeners have contributed their time and talents to decorate the Children's Room with gingerbread boys and girls and Christmas greens. Also on display for the Christmas season is an unusual creche scene composed of hand-painted Santons figures from Provence, lent by the Breazeale family who collected them on their travels in France.

Just two more Fridays of films for preschoolers are left this month. This week, on December 7, "Anatole and the Piano," "One Little Kitten" and "Morris' Disappearing Bag" will be presented. A Christmas program of three special holiday films will be shown Friday, Dec. 14. As always, we invite all preschoolers to join us either at 10:30 a.m. or 2 p.m.

For Dieters

Dieters who want to succeed should promise themselves some pleasant activities during the day, psychologists say. Exercise with a friend, see a good movie, make time for your favorite hobbies. Brighten low-calorie diets with delicious, but nonfattening, treats, such as a hot cup of tea between meals. Soothing and satisfying, it can help keep your waistline trim.

Honored For Service

Paulette Turco, optometrist, of Andover was honored at the 1984 Service Awards Ceremony of the Massachusetts Eye and Ear Infirmary on November 7.

She was recognized for five years of service as an employee of the General Eye Service.

Turco was one of more than 150 employees and volunteers honored for their contributions to the 160-year-old institution which specializes in research and treatment of disorders of the eye, ear, nose and throat.

40 YEARS OF SERVICE TO THE MERRIMACK VALLEY

Surgical Day Care Center Approved By State

By Susan Rand

Andover's new surgical day care center, to be located at Doctor's Park, on Haverhill Street, has become the first of its kind to be approved by the state Department of Public Health.

The nine physicians developing the $3 million project needed state approval of the surgical day care portion of the project before health insurance companies could reimburse their customers for surgery done at the center. Such reimbursements weren't made, and the Andover-based physicians were not going to apply for the state certificate, until Blue Cross/Blue Shield announced last March that they would repay surgery costs for operations done at facilities with state certification.

A "certificate of need" approval from the Massachusetts Department of Public Health means that the state believes the area needs the facility to be developed. Nursing homes and hospitals also follow a certificate of need evaluation process before they are built.

The physicians building the Andover Surgical Day Care Center are Joseph Rokous, Richard Katz, Roger Letourneau, John Niceforo, Charles Ellis, Donald Slipp, Martin Melia, George LeMaitre and Vincent Savukinas. The new building, being built by Stella Construction, of Wakefield, will be 30,000 square feet, making it slightly larger than the 26,000 square foot Doctor's Park building.

The physicians applying to the state for the need certificate are members of a corporation called Andover Surgical Day Care Center Inc., which includes Rokous, Savukinas, Donald Lang, George Pomerantz, Richard Orborf and Stephen Scully.

There was no special reason why Andover's request was the first approved, said Janet Hookailo, public relations officer for the state Department of Public Health. There are approximately 26 other such need applications pending at the state Health Department, Rokous told THE TOWNSMAN. He said the physicians would have opened their new center even if the state had not approved their determination of need.

Before the state approves a determination of need request they examine the need for that service in the area, Hookailo said. Information such as state census figures, the financial feasibility of the developers and bed capacity of area hospitals are studied by the state before they make a decision, said Hookailo.

Linda Clancy, who worked on the Andover approval at the state Public Health Department, said the Lawrence General and Bon Secours hospitals weren't able to handle the need for surgical space in the area, thus the Andover physicians' alternative proved a timely request. Both hospitals supported Andover Surgical's request, said Clancy.

The Andover Center will contract out for a number of support services with personnel at both the Lawrence General and the Bon Secours, said Rokous, including billing, public relations and administrative work.

Nine physicians new to the community will set up offices in the Andover Surgical Day Care Center, Rokous said, adding that the offices and ambulatory care facility is scheduled to be complete this April.

The important thing, said Clancy, is that surgery in the area should not increase just because there is a new place where physicians may perform operations. The Andover Surgical Day Care Center should instead fill a need.

Cafeteria Workers Sign

Fifty-one food service workers in the town's public schools have signed a two-year contract with the School Committee.

They have been working without a contract since July 1, when the old agreement expired, said Francis L. Paul, business manager for the school system who became involved in the negotiations two months ago. The committee unanimously approved the contract, 4 to 0, with Chairman Donald Robb absent from the meeting.

The new agreement includes a 6 percent cost of living raise, retroactive to July 1; a clothing allowance raise from $30 to $50; a paid day's personal leave for emergencies for part-time employees; the creation of a sick-leave bank, where workers will pool one or two days so colleagues with extended illnesses may draw upon those days if needed; and payment for teacher in-service days when there are more than two scheduled during the year, this year there are only two in-service days planned.

The Andover Schools Food Service Association employees are mostly part-time workers. There are seven full-time managers who work 35 hours a week, one in each of the schools except the Shawsheen School. The Association members negotiated their own contract, with representatives voted upon by the membership working on the contract with school officials.

Food Service Director Richard Baron and a secretary for the department are not members of the Food Service Association.

School Board Glances At A 9.9 Per Cent Budget Hike

By Susan Rand

The School Committee started their annual examination of school finances on Tuesday evening as they began work on the 1986 fiscal year budget.

The board voted unanimously to estimate the budget total for next year at $16,120,555, some 9.9 percent over last year's total of $14,665,000. Town Manager Kenneth Mahony will be notified of the school's estimated total, something the committee had to come up with before Jan. 5.

But that figure will in all likelihood change. Superintendent Kenneth R. Seifert explained that for as long as he has been working with the school budgets the first estimate has dropped.

"That number will not go up," Seifert said in a conversation yesterday with THE TOWNSMAN. "The $16 million number won't be it. I would hope it would be but it won't. How much lower...who knows."

It was with reluctance that committee member Susan T. Poore agreed to approve the $16 plus million budget figure. She said she did not want to approve the total before she went over the figures that back it up.

"I don't do (this) with any enthusiasm at all," Poore told the committee. "As it stands it (the budget total) is over target. People think the money is there to be spent, (but) it has to be deliberated on."

But Poore did vote to approve the figure, along with Michael R. Giammusso, acting as chairman of the meeting in the absence of Chairman Donald W. Robb, Richard E. Neal and Robert F. Smith.

The $16,120,555 total is also approximately $700,000 higher than an estimated number the so-called Bucket Committee mentioned for the schools a month ago. An informal subcommittee composed of members of the Finance Committee, Board of Selectmen and School Committee, the Bucket Committee looks at estimated revenues for the coming fiscal year, takes out fixed expenses and estimates what is left over for the town and schools, explained Andover's Finance and Budget Director Anthony Torrisi. The number the Bucket Committee proposed for the schools was about $15.4 million Seifert told the School Committee on Tuesday.

The School Committee budget process includes a look at 23 expense categories and 15 salary totals for various departments within the system. The board votes to approve each total three times, usually called "passes" at the budget. On Tuesday they made a first pass at six categories, five of which they unanimously passed.

Held over was the School Committee account, proposed for $10,000, after committee member Poore said she would be hard pressed to explain that figure to anyone who asked. That line item is 22% higher than last year's figure of $8,200.

First pass approvals were unanimously made on the legal services, personnel, maintenance and grounds, and fixed charges totals. School Business Manager Francis L. Paul gave the board background on each item, outlining what services each category included.

The legal services account figure is the

Youth Arrested For Breaks, Vandalism

By Susan Rand

Andover Police are calling seven house breaks here the work of a 16 year-old resident who they say is also responsible for vandalism in town that includes shooting at car and house windows and lamps with a BB gun.

The youth has confessed to the incidents, said patrolman Frank Froburg, who along with patrolman Thomas Siopes, is investigating the case. Because the youth is 16 and considered a minor under state law, the name cannot be released, said Froburg, adding that this was a first time offense for the youngster.

Police have recovered over $2,000 worth of stolen goods from the house breaks that occurred in the Greenwood Road area and on Marilyn and Dufton Roads and on North Main Street, Froburg said. Items recovered include cameras, watches, calculators, radios and liquor. Most of the breaks took place after school was out and while no one was in the homes, Froburg said.

Charges will be lodged against the youth, Froburg told THE TOWNSMAN, because of the severity of the incidents. But, he added, the youth and parents are cooperating with police, making the investigation easier.

"There will be court action," Froburg said. "But we are working with the family to try and get help for the youth. The family has been extremely cooperative and our recommendations in court go a long way — that's where the work of the parents come in."

Froburg and Siopes had been tracking the house break case for a week, Froburg said. At this point, police aren't sure if anyone else is involved in the breaks and vandalism.

Serious Santa

Greeting For Santa

The Andover Firefighters annual Christmas parade was enjoyed by hundreds who lined the streets to watch over 30 marching units that included bands, floats and cartoon characters. The best was naturally saved for last as Santa Claus arrived on a snorkel fire truck waving a greeting to the children. Photos clockwise from upper left: Two-year-old Caitlin Brooking waves to Santa from the top of her father's shoulders, Michael Brooking of North Chelmsford; Cindy Cookson and her little Christmas gift, Puff, march with the Girl Scouts; Heidi Mann, 3, of Merrimac, N.H., enjoys the parade with her grandfather, Robert Sherman of College Circle; Janine Noble, three, of North Andover gets a big hello from Snoopy; Clan McPherson bag pipers march along Main St.; Nancy Simili of York St. and daughter, Caitlin, two, bundle up; The Chieftans Drum and Bugle Corp. from Lawrence; The South School float which won first prize; Andover Police color guard escort the parade; Sanborn Elementary School celebrates Christmas around the world. Commendable Approach

The zoning board of appeals and the planning board have sent a message to developers that they are facing up to their responsibility in protecting the town.

The message is contained in the action of both boards in reviewing the plans for condominium development off Poor street.

At the annual town meeting this year, voters gave approval to the construction of condominium units for the particular area. The units were in the expensive category and presented to the voters in a manner which had won planning board approval.

Wisely, the town insisted that the final plans be subject to review by the zoning board of appeals which would have to issue a special permit for actual construction to take place.

The developers appeared before the appeals board last month with a plan which was contrary to what was presented to town meeting and the request for a special permit was tabled. Developers were sent to the planning board and also given time to get their plans in conformance with the design presented at town meeting.

Planners last week indicated their rejection of the plan as currently contemplated by the developers.

Not only is the plan different from that presented at town meeting, but the one now being presented for approval would adversely affect, 'the amenity of the neighborhood' according to Planner Nancy Jeton who added that this provision is the most crucial in protecting neighborhoods when special permits are sought from the zoning board.

Frankly, the town should be grateful for the protection it is receiving from the members of both boards in this case.

Too often have plans been presented to town meeting. A pleasant drawing of the proposed development and promises to meet certain guidelines wins voter favor and the project is approved.

Later, when construction gets underway and development is complete, the proposal is far different from that which was presented.

In this case, it would appear that what was offered to town meeting voters and approved is the only proposal which will be allowed to proceed.

And, that is what a community like Andover, facing growth problems, needs. This is particularly noteworthy in consideration that the people most involved are dedicated volunteers.

Down The Years With The Townsman

75 Years Ago — December 1909

Do your Christmas shopping in Andover. Never did the shops look more attractive, and if some of the early shoppers may be taken as authority, never were prices so advantageous in the Andover shops as they are this year. Confusion, trouble, excessive bundle carrying, and all the other things that follow travel abroad for the Christmas shopping can be in a large measure avoided, and Andover interests can be promoted, by leaving the Christmas dollars among the Andover storekeepers during the next few weeks.

The work of building a new addition to the factory of the Tyer Rubber Company has begun.

A small seven year old boy belonging in Frye Village, in attempting to skate last Wednesday on Hussey's Pond found that the ice was rather insecure, for very much to his surprise it broke and he tumbled in. His companions pulled him out, however, and he is none the worse for his experience.

The Andover Press has never published anything with a greater degree of satisfaction than that marking the publication of the Andover Calendar which went on sale Wednesday. Color photography has not yet come so that it can be used commercially but a combination of half-tones well printed and hand colored most artistically make of the twelve months of the Andover Calendar an art work of rare beauty. At fifty cents there has been provided the most beautiful souvenir of Andover ever published.

50 Years Ago — December 1934

How far does Japan intend to go in her search for power and security, and what will be the effect of her present activities upon the Western World? These are among the most vital questions in the public news of the day and it is these topics which George E. Sokolsky will discuss in his lecture at Phillips academy on Friday, Dec. 14, at 8.15 p.m.

Plans for a general Christmas party for children by the V.F.W. are under way. The collection of toys will be postponed this year. The members of the post are very grateful to the citizens who have so generously contributed in past years. The belief is that after a sabbatical year, the harvest will be better for Christmas of 1935.

About $4,000 will be returned to the town next year in fines as the result of the recent ruling by which fines under Chapter 90 are paid to the town, according to Chief of Police George A. Dane. On Dec. 1 the new rule went into effect, with the result that if the average fine payment keeps up, Andover's tax rate will be twenty-five cents lower next year. Chapter 90 includes such offenses as speeding, drunken driving, etc.

25 Years Ago — December 1959

The possibility that the newest 514-car Raytheon parking lot may be full the moment it is opened arose this week. A traffic count taken by Officer Roy A. Russell in Shawsheen indicated that a possible 394 cars, now parked outside the lots, should be using the lot when opened. And Officer Russell estimated that 175-200 cars now using the largest of the Raytheon lots might move into the new one, because they are parked in aisles, traffic lanes and other areas not specified for parking.

John M. McCoy of Sunset Rock rd. has applied for permission to level off his land on High Plain rd. and sell the soil. A hearing on the request will be held Dec. 21, at 8:30 in the Selectmen's meeting room. Mr. McCoy owns the old Babicki farm, which is bordered by High Plain rd., Wood Hill rd., Haggetts pond and Haggetts pond rd. The path of construction of Route 110 will be through this general area.

Neighbors and friends of Charles Flanagan, retiring custodian of the Shawsheen School, will give him a testimonial banquet Dec. 17. Selectman James D. Wilson announced the affair, commenting: "He has a place in the hearts of everyone who ever came in contact with him. He's the father and champion to all the kids at the school."

Raymond B. DeRuisseau was promoted from the rank of Major to Lt. Colonel in the 5424th Quartermaster Unit Training Center under the command of Col. James H. Cosgrove Dec. 1. Col. DeRuisseau is the business manager of the Andover Townsman. He resides with his wife, Alice, and their son, Douglas, at 151 Olive ave., Lawrence.

Andover's water treatment plant may have produced unanticipated problems for local officials who today are "agonizing over a decision" on whether the town is willing to provide close to a million gallons of water a day to an industrial firm interested in locating a reported $6 million plant in Lowell Junction. The selectmen were apprised of the decision of The Carr Co., through its vice president, John Wilson, Monday night. The Carr Co., which manufactures fasteners, is now located in Cambridge and Burlington and would like to move its Cambridge operation to a new plant to be built in the Lowell Junction area.

Andover rail commuters got the reprieve they've been waiting for early Tuesday morning, when the MBTA voted to continue stopping here — at least till the March town meeting. While the Andover Rail Committee was a little short of its $6000 goal, it apparently had enough to show the MBTA "good faith." The $6000 was an estimated cost of operating the train until the town meeting reconsiders town subsidy of the once-a-day commuter service. Atty. Robert Zollner, chairman of the newly-formed save-the-train group, said the funds totalled $5640 Tuesday morning, and they were "still counting."

Andover High and the "Super Bowl" are quickly becoming old friends, because this Saturday morning at 10:15 o'clock Coach Dick Collins' Warriors become one of the few schools in the event's brief history to qualify two consecutive years. Andover, 10-0-2 for the regular season and champions of the Merrimack Valley Conference, will lock horns with Salem, 10-0-0 and kings of the Northeastern Conference, in Division II's Super Bowl IV.

Your Amazing Skin

Even if you're on the skinny side, your skin is your body's largest organ. The average human epidermis measures about 19 sq.ft.

and weighs more than seven pounds. Your amazing skin is a fortress which protects you against invading bacteria and viruses. It can do this because the outer layer is really made up of dead cells which don't become infected easily.

Below the top cells, which you slough off and replace by the millions each day, lie highly-specialized cells which produce a substance called melanin. If you're a pale face, it's because you have less melanin, or pigment, in your skin than someone with a swarthier complexion.

A portion of skin no bigger than a postage stamp contains four yards of nerves and 25 nerve endings.

Thinking Skills Discussed

The School Committee heard about Lois Haslam's work in the area of thinking skills, something school administrators and specialists are researching this year.

Haslam's assistant superintendent's study group met all day Tuesday to discuss documented research about thinking skills and how the skills relate to both the quality and quantity of education. Members of the group will work on various research projects as a result of the day's discussions.

Research and possible development of new methods of educating Andover's children has been made a priority this year by the School Committee and Superintendent Kenneth R. Seifert.

Haslam told the committee she expects her thinking skills work to take about three years, and possibly as long as five years, she said. Understanding how schoolchildren work with concepts such as problem solving, decision making, critical thinking, analysis, synthesis of information and evaluation are some of the topics Haslam and her group will study.

The School Committee will be briefed on Haslam's progress with the thinking skills work at each stage of her research, she said at Tuesday's meeting.

Loomis Attends Session

New Assistant Superintendent Leslie G. Loomis attended his first School Committee meeting on Tuesday and was welcomed to town by school board members.

Loomis began work here on Monday and already has some ideas about meeting his constituents. He told the committee, on Tuesday, that he hopes to set up "satellite" offices in the three schools he oversees as assistant superintendent for secondary education. In addition, Loomis will spend today at Andover High School, tomorrow at West Junior High and Monday at Doherty Junior High School.

"I know the town is going to be pleased," said committee member Michael Giammusso, acting chairman of the meeting in the absence of Chairman Donald Robb. "They will be anxious to meet you."

Loomis comes to Andover from central New York state where he was the principal at the Fayetteville-Manlius High School.

Research and Development

Barbara Roulston, right, and Julie Parkhurst work on a computer program at Tuesday's thinking skills seminar, conducted by Assistant Superintendent for Elementary Education Lois Haslam. Roulston teaches fifth grade at the Bancroft School and Parkhurst is program head for special needs in the school system.

Girls' Varsity Basketball Team

The Andover Warriors Girls' Varsity Basketball team will hit the court this year with a strong showing from three returning players. Seniors Shawna McCloskey, Mandy Duggan and Kathy Neaves will be a good part of the team's strength. Other seniors who will see action are Kay Levesque, Cathy Kupa, Lisa Marcel-la, Sue Sellers and Lauren McCormack. Junior, Rubina Carver, a second year varsity player, will provide her magic touch for the team along with junior, Chris Scanlon. Sophomores, Laurie Habeeb and Suzanne Virog will bring their talents to the team as they start their first varsity year. Coach Karen Kennedy believes the team should improve their 7-7 record from last season with good hard work on the floor and an overall better attitude. The first game is against Revere in a non-league match on Dec. 20 at home. Their first league match will be against Methuen on Dec. 29. A new and helpful addition to this year's team is Assistant Coach Sandy Lunt. Her coaching expertise comes from across the ocean where she was a H.S. coach in Rome, Italy, for three years. Photos clockwise from upper left: Lisa Marcella works on a layup; Kathy Neaves tries a center shot; Kay Levesque and Cathy Kupa work on a hanging onto the ball drill; Shawna McCloskey takes some foul shots.

Warrior Hoopsters Should Be Strong Contenders For Titles

By Rick Harrison

With good offensive balance and overall team quickness, the 1984-85 Andover High boys' varsity basketball squad should be in strong contention for both the Merrimack Valley Conference Large School Division championship and an Eastern Mass. Tournament berth this winter.

Defending EMass. Division I titlist and MVC co-champ Lowell is the odds-on pre-season favorite to repeat its league success, with Billerica expected to present a stiff challenge, but second-year AHS coach Tom Ryser isn't counting the Golden Warriors out by any means.

"The league is such that we could play very well and still finish third or fourth," noted Ryser. "But there is also the possibility we could sneak past everyone, including Lowell, and win it all. Who knows?"

Ryser's optimism is based on the fact that this current Andover hoop edition has more offensive weapons than last year's club, which finished a somewhat deceptive 6-12, and also has the potential to play the same tough defense displayed by the '83-84 team.

"We can put points on the board," stated Ryser. "Last year we basically had two scorers, and people simply overplayed those kids. They were double- and triple-teamed. We held most teams under 50 points per game last year, but unfortunately we were only scoring in the 40's ourselves."

The Golden Warriors did drop one game in overtime, lost another at the final buzzer, and were beaten by five or fewer points on three other occasions. Reverse those close losses and the record would have been 11-7.

Personnel

The key graduates from Ryser's first Andover squad were top marksman Mark Nardone (now at Louisville), Chris Scarpa (Tufts), Billy Vickers (Phillips-Exeter Academy), Mike Gibson (St. Leo's) and Charlie Ziegenbein (New Haven).

"We'll miss Nardy's offense, Scarpa's defense and Gibson's rebounding ability," offered Ryser. "And Ziegenbein always gave 100 per cent to the team, whether he was out on the floor or sitting at the far end of the bench."

The only full-time returning starter from last year is junior Tim Perry (6'0"), an MVC All-Star selection whose versatility will allow him to play a variety of positions ranging from point-guard to forward.

Perry poured in 33 points in one contest last winter, averaged in double figures for the season, but is just as effective as a passer.

Tom Lutz, a 6'3" senior forward, played five games for the Warrior varsity before developing a blood pressure problem that sidelined him for two months. Lutz had just started to make his presence felt, playing a strong game against Lowell and netting 18 points in the fifth game.

Four other varsity reserves return, senior forward

Bill Weidman (6'2"), senior forward Eric Deloury (6'3"), senior forward Craig Hammond (6'2"), and senior guard Dan Carignan (6'1").

Weidman and Hammond saw the most action among that quartet, but Hammond has missed most of the first two weeks of practice with a recurring knee injury (floating cartilage) aggravated during the football season.

The AHS varsity has been enhanced by the addition of junior guard John Klopacz (6'1"), a sharpshooter who transferred in from a Chicago suburb. "In addition to his shooting prowess, John is a smart player," said Ryser.

Elevated from the JV team, which posted a fine 12-4 record last year, are junior leaper Doug Rotondi (6'4") and junior point-guard Chris Bartley (5'10").

"Doug has all kinds of raw ability," observed Ryser. "He can go left, right or over people. What he needs most is a little more toughness to go with that physical prowess, and we feel it will come."

"Chris is another very smart player, with excellent moves to the basket, and all he lacks is experience at the varsity level. I think he'll respond and be a very important player for us."

Six other players have been working out with the varsity since the first practice 10 days ago, and they will most likely split their time between the varsity and JV squads.

This group includes junior guards Rob DiTroia (5'10") and Leo Gravell (5'7"), and junior forwards Mark Heibesen (6'1"), Paul Lambers (5'10"), Mike Burke (6'2") and Bob Manning (6'2").

Balance

"We may go with a three-guard offense," stated Ryser, "and I feel we have three kids (Perry, Bartley and Klopacz) who can all play the point."

"I'm hoping Chris Bartley will ease into the point position, in which case we can use Perry as either a shooting guard or a shooting forward. Timmy should also provide us with the type of intensity and leadership we had from Nardone, Scarpa and Gibson last year."

"Klopacz is an excellent shooter (in the 15-18 foot range), Lutz is a strong rebounder and can score from anywhere inside the foul line, and

Ski League Registering Saturday

The Bill Koch Youth Ski League of Andover will hold its formal registration Saturday, Dec. 8, at the Rolling Green Ski Touring Center from 10 a.m. to 12 noon. Video tapes on Nordic skiing and the movie "I Hope I Get a Purple Ribbon," featuring Bill Koch, will be shown continuously. Free coffee, cider and donuts will be served to area youngsters and parents who desire to learn more about the league.

The league started eight years ago and provides instruction in cross country skiing, racing and ski jumping to area youngsters 13 years of age and under. It is based on the premise that fun and fitness are important elements in developing a health family lifestyle.

The club practices weekly at the Rolling Green Ski Touring Center on Lowell Street, Andover, and tours local conservation areas on Saturdays (non-scheduled race dates). Each year four district race events and jumping competitions are held at various eastern Massachusetts towns with a regional finals event. This year's finals will be held in Middlebury, VT, on March 2.

Membership dues cover all practice sessions, membership in the United States Ski Association, tours and all district events. Club members are not required to race/jump and can be as low key or highly competitive as they desire.

Girls Soccer Team Honored

The girls soccer team celebrated their very successful season with a banquet at the Andover Country Club on November 28. The Cape Ann League champions finished with a record of 11-0-1 and were quarter finalists in the state tourney.

Junior Varsity Coach Dick Loschi spoke of each of his players and stressed the importance of the JV in building for the varsity as the varsity will lose 12 senior players at graduation. Special awards were given to Shay Livingston for most improved player and the coaches award to Kristie Mirisola.

Varsity Coach Karen Kennedy spoke of the season and described it as the best Andover girls soccer team she has seen. She emphasized team spirit and cooperation. An important factor in their success was their unwillingness to give up. Varsity letters were awarded to Julie Boland, Cheryl Crawford, Denise Doran, Laurie Habeeb and Anne Kannam, sophomores; Debbie Cookson, Torrie Fitzpatrick, Katy Hughes, Kelly Johnson and Ronnie Kovner, juniors; Anne Abele, Lisa Marcella, Kathy Murphy, Kathy Neaves, Kara Oliver, Aimee Ross, Karen Sofia, Debra Weisman and Captains Julie Kittleson, Suzanne Curley, Joanne Martin and Saramichelle Sapuppo, seniors. Special thanks was given to Stephanie Weinstein, senior, who managed the team this season.

Two most improved player awards were presented to Kathy Murphy and Suzanne Curley. Anne Abele was given the most valuable player award. Julie Kittleson received the Hardock Award for leadership and Kathy Neaves the Corkery Award for excellent play in goal and on the field.

Torrie Fitzpatrick was named captain for the 1985 girls varsity soccer season, assisted by Katy Hughes, Kelly Johnson and Ronnie Kovner.

The varsity girls gave a special thanks to Assistant Coach Hoan Dang for all his help by presenting him with a team jacket and autographed ball. Gifts were given to Coach Kennedy in appreciation of her dedication, support and friendship throughout this outstanding soccer season.

Merrimack Planning Paris Trip

Professor Richard Boulanger of the modern language department at Merrimack College will direct a trip to Paris, France, for students, faculty and friends during the spring vacation.

The group, limited to 40, will leave March 24 and stay at Hotel Vaugirard for nine nights.

Prof. Boulanger studied in Paris and has first-hand knowledge of the city.

He will offer daily walking tours to attractions seldom appreciated by the average tourist.

The trip will also include two full tours, one day to Versailles, the other to Chartres.

Deadline for applications is December 7. Information is available from Prof. Boulanger at the college.

Benefit Hockey Game At College

Merrimack College, in conjunction with Lawrence General Hospital and Bon Secours Hospital in Methuen, will sponsor the First Annual Toys for Tots Benefit Hockey Game at Merrimack on Sunday, Dec. 9.

The Merrimack Warriors hockey team will host the United States International University Gulls from San Diego, Calif., in a matchup of NCAA Division I independents at the S. Peter Volpe Athletic Complex Rink at 7:30 p.m.

Any person who donates a toy at the game will be admitted free of charge, under the Toys for Tots promotion. All of the toys collected will be distributed as Christmas gifts to children and elderly patients at the Lawrence General and Bon Secours hospitals, according to Merrimack College Athletic Director Robert DeGregorio, Jr.

"We want to cheer up the children and elderly patients spending the Christmas season in the hospital when they'd all rather be home," says DeGregorio. "We think this is a good way to do it. People can show their concern for hospitalized children and elderly and see a good hockey game at the same time."

The Merrimack hockey team is off to one of its best starts in years with a 6-2 record through the first quarter. Under second-year head coach Ron Anderson, a former National Hockey League wing with the Bruins and Washington Capitals, the Warriors were sitting atop the Eastern College Athletic Conference standings with a perfect 4-0 as of November 28.

Suggested toy donations include games, children's books, playing cards, balls, etc. Toys with sharp edges and old stuffed animals will not be accepted. For those unable to attend the Sunday game, toys will be accepted Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. by the Merrimack College athletic department located in the Volpe Complex.

For further information, contact DeGregorio, Kenneth P. Parson, vice president of development and marketing at Lawrence General Hospital or Kathy Hicks of the community relations department at Bon Secours Hospital.

Contrary to popular belief, Scandinavian climate is very similar to that of New England in winter. For example, the average temperature in Stockholm in December is 29 degrees.

Old Radio

Anyone who'd like to relive those thrilling days of yesteryear can tune in again when "Van Christo Radio Theatre" presents its annual Yuletide Special on WBUR (90.9 FM) on Christmas Eve from 7 p.m. to 10 p.m.

The three-hour Christmas package includes Lionel Barrymore in "A Christmas Carol," "Our Miss Brooks," starring Eve Arden, "Miracle on 34th Street," "Dragonet," "Edgar Bergen and Charlie McCarthy," "Suspense," starring Eddie Cantor, and "Fibber McGee & Molly." Each show has a Christmas theme to enhance the holiday mood.

Pee Wee A

The Andover Pee Wee A's are showing the benefits of regular practice time as evidenced by three recent strong games. Coach Mike Murnane's skaters are playing in the Danvers League and the newly formed Valley Youth Hockey League at Merrimack College. The past two weeks have produced wins against Amesbury (4-0), North Andover (5-4) and Haverhill (7-4).

Amesbury, 4-0

Goalies Brian Novelline and Mike Murnane combined forces for this shutout and the team wasted no time in building a lead. Peter Arthur started the scoring early in the first period, finishing off the neat passing work of linemates Joe Iarrobino and Colin Nix. Iarrobino upped the score in the second period, unassisted.

Gary Bleszinski then provided some breathing room with two more goals, with help from John Melillo and Scott Halecki. The solid defensive work of Jim Morris, Keith Cutler, Todd Allard, Sean Darwin and Chris Pothier contributed much to the outcome of the game.

North Andover, 5-4

The early morning hour may have been a factor in this game as the Pee Wees found themselves trailing 4-0. Ed Chaisson then took the reins, rallied the team and led a roaring come-back with five goals. Three of his goals were unassisted; Keith Cutler and Scott Halecki helped with the others. Although Chaisson took care of the scoring, the whole team contributed to this win, never giving up when faced with the four-goal deficit.

Haverhill, 7-4

In this hard-fought and physical game, Andover and Haverhill were even at the end of the first period. Colin Nix started the scoring with a nifty goal, finishing a nice pass from Joe Iarrobino. Haverhill scored two to go ahead, then Ed Chaisson tied it up, assisted by Iarrobino and Nix.

Andover pulled away in the second period when Chaisson scored two more goals to complete his hat trick, Scott Halecki and Iarrobino each scored one. Keith Cutler and Peter Arthur picked up assists.

The final goal in the third period typifies the kind of hustle this team is developing. Speedy Halecki raced back to prevent an icing call, fired at the net and scored.

The defensive crew was helped by the fine back-checking of Gary Bleszinski and John Melillo and the hustle of Chris Pothier. Morris, Allard and Darwin were solid in front of Novelline and Murnane, who split the goalkeeping chores.

With help from assistant coaches Ed Chaisson and John Halecki, Murnane's roster includes 12-year-olds Ed Chaisson, Mike Murnane, Joe Iarrobino, Gary Bleszinski, Jim Morris and Bryan Smith; 11-year-olds Todd Allard, Peter Arthur, Keith Cutler, Sean Darwin, Scott Halecki, John Melillo, Colin Nix, Brian Novelline and Chris Pothier.

The Pee Wees are currently without the services of Bryan Smith, who was injured in a game several weeks ago. His consistent, heady play is sorely missed by the team and all are anxious for his return.

Squirt A

Andover 1 - North Andover 5

Andover's Squirt A team lost its share of first place in the Valley League when it ran into a fast-skating North Andover squad. The home team had tied up the game early in the opening period when winger Todd Norton was set up near the net by linemates Ryan Moynihan and Andy Novelline. After that, North Andover simply outskated the home club and forced them into their first loss of the season at the Merrimack rink.

Andover 6 - Haverhill 5

For the second time this season, the Andover Squirt team jumped all over Haverhill only to let them creep back later in the game. The score was 4-0 Andover at the end of the opening period. First to score was Ryan Moynihan at the 11-second mark when Andy Novelline drew the goalie out of position. Three minutes later Danny Trede (assist Daley) whipped a shot off the near post for a 2-0 lead. Halfway through the period, Justin Hesenius picked off a clearing pass and fed Steve Neal in the slot for the third goal. Shortly thereafter Moynihan (assist Norton) made it 4-0.

Bobby Daley scored Andover's only goal of the middle period (assist Neal) while Moynihan's hat-trick goal in the final period (assist Novelline) rounded on the scoring.

Andover 3 - Lynnfield 12

Andover's Squirt A team ran into an awesome Lynnfield squad and found themselves on the losing end of a 12-3 score. The only bright spots of the contest were the two goals in the first period by Andy Novelline, set up by Moynihan and Norton, and Bobby Daley's tally in the middle stanza (assists Neal, Trede). The second half belonged to Lynnfield as they scored seven unanswered goals.

Squirt B

After being soundly defeated by teams now moved up to Squirt A level in the Danvers League, the Squirt B team is now engaging teams of comparable capability. In their most recent game against Saugus, they dominated offensively and defensively and gained their first victory by a 10-1 margin.

Dan McKew opened the scoring early in the first period with what would be the first of his five goals. Moments later his linemate Scott Munroe passed to him for his second tally. The first-period scoring ended when Adam Gurry received a pass from linemate McKew and fired in a goal to make the score 3-0. The second period was a defensive battle at both ends of the ice with Andover scoring by McKew on a pass from Richie Enos and Benji Ristuccia on a pass from Gurry. The third period was dominated by Andover with Saugus finally getting on the board only after two unassisted goals by Ristuccia and a breakaway goal by McKew. The final Andover tallies were by McKew, with an assist from Scott Munroe, and Dana DiFiore scoring on an assist from Phil Smith and Sean Donahue. Mark Pirri and Ryan Doyle gave valuable assistance through their constant feeding of the puck to their linemates.

Winter Tour

Old Sturbridge Village, Sturbridge, sponsors a winter tour program through February 15 that helps visitors examine various aspects of early American life, including fashions in the 1830s, the dairy market and the printer's trade.

Walking tours of the 1832 Meetinghouse and the restored houses on the common are held Tuesday through Friday, every half hour from 11 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. These tours, guided by costumed interpreters, will focus on the lives and experiences of the Center Village residents during an 1830's winter. Each tour lasts between 60 and 90 minutes. The farm, school, stores, mills and craftshops are open for self-guided tours Tuesday through Sunday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Topic tours offer a more in-depth study of a particular aspect of life in the early 19th century. Each tour includes a hands-on activity related to the topic.

Y Swimmers Win Big

The Andover-North Andover YMCA swim team began its 1984-85 season in a big way, capturing eight of ten age groups in meets with the Beverly Y Barracudas.

Triple winner Shawna Newland led the way in Class A (15-17) taking the 50 yard freestyle and 100 yard backstroke. She teamed with Amy Ford, Maureen Murphy and Kara Hannon to win the 200 yard medley relay. Ford won the 100 free and was second in the 100 yard breaststroke while Murphy was second in the 200 free and 100 butterfly and Hannon was second in the 50 free and 100 back.

Debbie Rice, Stephanie Mitchell, Claire Piazza and Cathy Smith won the 400 yard free relay. Rice was third in the 200 yard I.M. and 100 free. Mitchell won the 500 free and was third in the 50 while Piazza captured the 200 I.M. and was a close second in the 500 free. Smith won the 20 free and was second in the 100.

Jodi DiBartolomeo, in the 100 fly, Susan Estabrooks, in the 100 back, and Mary Robb, in the 200 free, added third-place points as Andover won 64-21.

Class A men defeated Beverly 53-30 as the winning medley relay all tripled. Gregg Morava won the 500 free and 100 back, Eric Bechick took the 200 I.M. and 100 yard breaststroke, Aaron Thompson was first in the 50 free and 100 fly, and David Flanders won the 100 and 200 free events.

Peter Abdinoor was second in the 200 free; Scott Bates was third in the 50 free and Ted Crane took thirds in the 100 fly and breaststroke.

Miche Fox and Kim Marrah were triple winners in Class B (13-14) Fox won the 200 I.M. and 100 back while Marrah took the 200 free and 100 breaststroke. They swam on the winning freestyle relay with Kathy Savage and Krista Carney. Savages was second in the 50 free and 100 fly while Carney was third in the I.M. and 100 free.

Stephanie Ames, Maggie Skibba, Coleen Hayes and Amy Piazza won the medley relay in the 60-26 victory. Cindy Carlson was third in the breaststroke as was Jeanne Latourelle in the 25 free.

Health Hints

Strategies against stress: exercise at least four times a week and follow a nutritious diet. drink plenty of water every day. If you're experiencing any stress, you'll need two-thirds of an ounce of water for every pound of body weight and that's the usual amount needed, according to a stress management expert.

Withdraw from the burdens of daily life by taking a walk, nap, a stretch or "breathing" break. Avoid perfectionism: aim for the top, but make allowances. Talk about what's bothering you: unresolved issues take a heavy toll on both partners in a relationship.

Give yourself a change of pace by taking a vacation that will restore your energies. Under the proper circumstances, a long weekend can be as relaxing as a three-week vacation.

A.Y.B.L. Opens Season

The opening games for the 1984-85 Andover Youth Basketball League, Senior Division, were played this past Sunday night at West Junior High School.

The 76ers, with four players absent, had to face the fully-manned Lakers in the first game of the night. The first period saw the Lakers take advantage of the Sixers as the fast break, led by Derek Brucato and Mike Ardito, provided an 18-5 margin. Matt Dorsey, with seven points in the second period, helped close the gap to 28-18 at the half. Scott Powers and Tom Murray each scored four points in the third period and Rick Pass played strong defense for the Lakers. John Dorsey, John Lutz and Todd McCallister each scored two points for the Sixers who narrowed the margin to 38-31. Matt Dorsey found the angle again in the fourth period to bring the score to 42-40 and force the Lakers into a couple of time-outs to regroup. From this point on, Bill Lambers and Kevin Mayberry controlled the boards and Kurt Brucato hit a jumper and a set shot from the baseline to finish off a Laker's win 46-40. Despite having only four players on the court for the entire game, the 76ers outscored the Lakers in the last three quarters, 35-28.

The fast-breaking Knicks got off to a 33-17 first-half score over the Celtics in the second game of the night. Jim Regan and Jim Tacy each had eight points and Eric Tatro and Aleke Msumba played strong defense for the Knicks. The Celtics were led by Steve Hanley and Patrick Burns, with four points each in the first half. With the Knicks' fast break still rolling along, Jim Flowers banged home 13 of his game-high 18 points, Stefen Kelley and Msumba each had six and Peter Radulski played strong defense.

Big Mark Russell found his shooting touch in the second half for the Celtics when he banged home 13 of his team-high 15 points. Barry Finegold and Ken DeBenedictis each played well defensively. Tom DeBenedictis and John Lahiff were credited with some sharp passes in the second half. Also hitting double figures in scoring were Burns with 10 for the Celtics and Tacy with 13 for the Knicks.

In the third game, the Cavs used their speed and height to quickly open up a 39-13 half-time lead over the Rockets, who were without their top rebounder. Steve Durson had numerous offensive rebounds and 13 of his game-high 18 points in the first period alone. Doug Howe and Don Cooke played excellent defense in not allowing the Rockets a single fieldgoal in the first half as all their points came from the foul line. Darren Rice had six points in the first half and Jim Lambers was credited with a fine passing effort for the Rockets. The third period heated up when the full-court press employed by the Rockets helped them score some quick baskets which forced the Cavs to a quick time-out. Jeff Hurley, (4 points), Rice, (3 points) and Marke Angelos (2 points) led the comeback by the Rockets. The Cavs were not to be denied as Steve Howe hit three fieldgoals, Eric Goodman made some nice passes and Brendon McCue did most of the rebounding as they raised the margin 49-21. Josh Yezerksi controlled the ball and Greg Sheppard played strong defense for the leaders during the fourth period. The Rockets were led by the rebounding of Greg Kinsky and the defense of Jeff Manning who also had a fieldgoal in the fourth period to go along with a set shot from outside by Jeff Valcourt. Also in double figures for the Cavs were Goodman and Yezerksi with 10 points each. McCue and Steve Howe each had eight points.

The A.Y.B.L. Senior Division still has a few slots open. If any interested 13-15 year old would like to play, call Bernie Valcourt at 475-4645. The A.Y.B.L. plays man-to-man defense only and everybody plays in every game.

Wildcat Mountain

The Department of Community Services is offering a weekend ski trip for junior high students to Wildcat Mountain in New Hampshire, March 8-10.

Information flyers are available at both junior high schools' main offices. The trip is limited to 45 students.

All registrations are being accepted at the DCS office on a first-come, first-served basis. Since weekend reservations must be made months in advance, there is no possibility of adding an additional trip to handle an overflow of skiers.

Cross Country Skiing

The Department of Community Services will offer cross country skiing lessons to adults beginning in January. Each session includes three dates of one-hour lessons and one hour of free skiing time. Further information, including session dates, program costs and registration deadlines is available at the DCS office.

Calico Christmas

A Calico Christmas Decorations Workshop will be held Thursday, Dec. 13, from 7 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. at Doherty Junior High School. Register at the DCS office on Bartlet Street.

Volunteers Needed

The Department of Community Services is still looking for volunteers to chaperone the Bradford Hill Ski Program which begins in January. Chaperones are entitled to free skiing.

Any interested individuals should contact the DCS office Monday through Friday between 8:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m.

Jamboree

The third annual Cape Ann League-Merrimack Valley Conference boys basketball jamboree will be held Saturday, Dec. 8, at North Reading High School on Route 62.

The schedule of games are: Masconomet vs. Lawrence Central, 6 p.m.; Pentucket vs. Andover, 6:40 p.m.; North Andover vs. Chelmsford, 7:20 p.m.; Lynnfield vs. Wilmington, 8 p.m.; North Reading vs. Methuen, 8:40 p.m.

Wins Gymnastic Medals

Michelle Soreff

Thirty hours of practice each week has paid off for young Andover gymnast Michele Soreff who took home medals in two recent gym competitions last month.

At the United States Gymnastic Federation sanctioned Golden Apple Invitational Meet, in New York, Michele, who lives at 23 Sagamore Drive, won two first place medals, in all-around competition, balance beam and floor exercises. She took second in the uneven bars and third place in the vault. Her next competition is the Christmas Tree meet, a few weeks away.

After New York there was the Pilgrim Meet, in Marlboro, where Michele captured first place in the vault and second on the balance beam. She competes in an intermediate class, for girls 12 to 14 years old.

Michele is the daughter of Judy and Stuart Soreff.

The Doherty School eighth grader works out five hours every day after school and on Saturdays at the Reading Gymnastics Academy, in Reading. She said she doesn't mind the long hours because she is so fond of gymnastics.

It was a back problem that led the 13 year-old to gymnastics as a first grader. Her back problem disappeared a long time ago, said Michele, but she kept up with her gymnastics.

People used to put sprigs of mullein on their cattle to protect them from disease.

SADD At Andover High

By Scott LaCreta

What is S.A.D.D.

A name which now has meaning to 150,000 high school students, it stands for Students Against Driving Drunk. It is in over 100 schools in Massachusetts and also in schools in Florida, North and South Carolina, Georgia, Connecticut, Maine and New Hampshire.

The national goals of SADD are to stop drinking and driving and to make teenagers and parents aware of the dangers of drunk driving.

Teenagers' number one health problem today is injuries sustained in alcohol-related accidents. Persons in the age 16 to 24 category cause 44 per cent of nighttime, fatal, alcohol-related crashes, according to statistical reports.

SADD began in September, 1981 through a mandatory health education program for sophomores at Wayland High school. Robert Anastos, director of health education for Wayland schools developed and conducted the program.

SADD was started three years ago at Andover High school when John Drake presented the program to Mike Marcoux, now director of the Andover High chapter of SADD. Drake obtained the literature and information and is currently president of the local organization.

One of the activities presented by the Andover SADD group this year was a SADD night at the Collins Center used to make teenagers and parents aware of the drinking and driving problems in Andover. A panel of 17 students made presentations and responded to questions about the problem in this community.

Among other activities planned, the local group would like to hang a banner in the center of town proclaiming drinking and driving don't mix during the holiday season. They also plan a pre-prom film and on Friday night will have a booth in the Andover Savings Bank for questions, bumper stickers, contracts, pins, etc., as part of the Chamber of Commerce Family Night program.

Exhibit

Francesca Anderson Gallery, 132 Newbury St., Boston, will present a Drawing Show December 1-January 8 of realistic pencil, conte, charcoal and pastel drawings.

Gallery hours are Tuesday through Saturday from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

North Parrish Singers In Christmas Concert

The North Parrish Choral Society will sing Haydn's "Helig-Messe" in a Christmas Choral Festival at St. Mary's Church in Lawrence on Saturday, Dec. 8, at 8 p.m.

Greater Lawrence music lovers will hear contemporary and traditional Christmas music and be invited to join in a sing-a-long medley of Christmas carols to close the program. The North Parrish Choral Society is a community chorus of more than 40 voices from all over Greater Lawrence, with David Tierney as conductor.

Tierney will conduct the Choral Society, a solo quartet and orchestra for the famous Haydn mass. The organ will accompany the chorus and its own soloists for a group of contemporary Christmas carols: "Newborn King" by Lena McLin; "Did Mary Know?" by Richard Averre; "Hodie Christus natus est" by Healey Willan; "A Boy is Born" by Elis Pehkonen and the traditional "Coventry Carol," the negro spiritual "Mary Had A Baby" and Gustav Holst's 19th century "Lullay My Liking." The orchestra will return for the final "Yuletide Fantasy" when the audience joins the Choral Society in a sing-a-long medley of familiar Christmas carols.

Tickets are available from any chorus member and at St. Mary's Church on Haverhill Street and may be purchased at the door.

Tierney, also director of music at St. Mary's Church in Waltham and a recital organist, has been conducting choral music since he was 14 years old and holds a master's degree in choral conducting from Lowell University.

"A community chorus is made up from the community and should reflect the diversity of the community in ages, occupations, interest and also in diversity of training," says Tierney. "You can get such pleasure out of being in a community chorus."

The expanded North Parrish Choral Society draws singers from Andover, North Andover, Lawrence, Methuen, Wilmington, North Reading, Reading, Bradford, Burlington, North Chelmsford and Lynn. They will give a concert in the spring and a Pops concert in early summer.

meers. Anyone interested in joining rehearsals should contact a member of the Choral Society or Tierney in Waltham.

Andover participants include Carol Leavitt, Forbes Lane; Maria Hagi-georges, Essex Street; Marta Hornidge, Ballardvale Road; Janvier Miller, Main Street; Sandi Rehe, Hampton Lane; Teri Reid, Cattle Crossing; Kathie Wrack, Woodhill Road; Frank Ecels, Main Street; Dana Rehe, Hampton Lane; Kathy Rehe, Hampton Lane; Tia Sprattler, South Main Street; Richard Graber, Salem Street; John Kimball, Prospect Road; Doug Kuhlmann, Phillips Academy; David Rehe, Hampton Lane; Warren Rehe, Hampton.

Avoid flammable Christmas decorations such as tissue paper, cotton batting, flock and some foamed plastics. Stick with non-combustible and flame-retardant decorations. Don't make a bonfire of your gift wrappings and evergreen boughs in the fireplace. "Karkantzari" disappear, families burn old leather shoes so the odor will chase them away.

Reflector Bowls

Reflector bowls usually last a long time, but food stains and damage shorten their life and decrease their usefulness.

Blue/gold stains are caused by overheating the reflector bowl when using a pan larger than the surface unit and using pans which do not have flat bottoms. The blue or gold stain caused by overheating cannot be removed.

Brown stains are caused by cooked-on food from spatters and spills that have not been wiped up soon enough. In most cases this stain can be removed. However, if food spills stay on the cooktop and reflector bowls too long they become baked on and can be very difficult to remove.

Home economists recommend starting the food cooking on high speed. Then turn to a lower setting to finish cooking to avoid overheating as well as possible boil overs.

But after the newspapers, books and historical society files were exhausted, she says, the project became "kind of like detective work — I started tracking down leads on descendants. A lot of it was word of mouth."

One slightly misguided source told her that Howell Shepard (1934-1942, 1946-1949) might have been related to NASA astronaut Alan Shepard.

Mrs. Flanders located the astronaut's parents in New Hampshire, and "had a marvelous conversation with Alan Shepard's mother over the telephone. She said there was no relation, but her family did know Howell Shepard's family." Alice was thus able to contact Selectman Shepard's son in Worcester, enjoy another long-distance conversation — and come up with a photo for the collection.

Others proved more elusive. Harry M. Eames (1907-1918) is the greatest mystery: "No one knows who he even is," Alice says. "I couldn't find any reference to him in the papers."

Surprisingly, the selectmen with some of the most famous names have been the most difficult to locate, including three of the first four board members, Frye, Holt and Charles Shattuck (1856-1859).

"You would think someone around Andover would be descendants of Frye, Holt and Shattuck," Mrs. Flanders says. "I thought those would be a snap."

But she soon learned, for instance, that the two branches of the Shattuck family still living in town, "don't know anything" about Selectman Shattuck — who, she discovered, was either a doctor or a pharmacist in Ballardvale.

Alice has not given up, however, and is still on the trail of the 20 missing selectmen. She'd be glad to hear from anyone who might have leads on the mysterious officials, who are:

George Foster, Enoch Frye, Jonas Holt and Charles Shattuck; William Chickering, 1858-1859; Benjamin Boynton, 1859-1865, 1870-1874; Asa A. Abbott, 1861-1863; John B. Abbott, 1863-1870; Herman Phelps, 1865-1870; Lewis G. Holt, 1870-1873; and William H.B. Woodlin, 1873-1876.

Also: Simeon Bardwell, 1874-1882; Charles Greene, 1876-1887; Charles F. Parker, 1878-1880; Charles S. Parker, 1884-1888, 1889-1890; James P. Butterfield, 1887-1888; Brooks F. Holt, 1888-1889; John S. Stark, 1889-1902; Harry M. Eames; and Jeremiah J. Daly, 1928-1936.

Town Manager Mahony says a plaque listing each selectman's name will be put up on the first floor of the town office building. In the future, the selectmen's photographs may be framed and hung in the second floor hallway as well.

Now that this project is coming to a close, the town manager — who had the inspiration for the collection in the first place — would like to collect photographs of Andover's town managers (a much simpler task: there have been only five, including Mr. Mahony).

He has also asked department heads (the police and fire chiefs, for example) to do some research on their predecessors, and "see how far back they can go."

For those readers who might still be wondering who, indeed, were Rice, Flint, Bardwell, Bliss and Donald, and when did they serve the town? Selectmen Rice, Bardwell and Donald have been described elsewhere in this article; John H. Flint served from 1870 to 1876; and Arthur Bliss, from 1893 to 1898.

In 1787 Delaware became the first state by beating its neighbors in ratifying the U.S. Constitution.

"Amahl"

The North East Cultural Arts Center of Bradford is sponsoring the heartwarming Christmas story of "Amahl and the Night Visitors" on Sunday, Dec. 9, at 4 p.m. at the First Baptist Church, Main Street, Haverhill.

It will be performed by the Connecticut Opera's touring company, "The Opera Express." Tickets are available by writing or calling the North East Cultural Arts Center, 13 Highland St., Bradford, Mass. 01830.

Talk

Rob Moir, natural history curator at the Peabody Museum of Salem, East India Square, Salem, will discuss how animals live with the sea on Tuesday, Dec. 11, at 11 a.m. He will start in the Salt Marsh Gallery with the large horse-shoes necessary to keep horses from sinking into the marsh as they hayed the Essex County marshes. He will use a whale skeleton to explain how whales can live in the ocean.

He will compare birds that live on the edge of the sea with birds that live for up to three years without touching land.

There is no charge above museum admission.

District Chorus Finalists

Finalists have been selected for the Northeastern High School District Chorus. Of the 198 finalists out of several hundred that auditioned, 12 are from Andover High School. They are Susan Ryan, Susan Kachen, Christine Craig, Kristen James, Julie Barbagallo, Michele DeVoir, Tom Hollenbeck, Greg Hopwood, Ben Choi, Mike O'Connell, Scott McAllister and Mike Boush. In addition, Ryan, James, Barbagallo, Hollenbeck and McAllister were selected to audition for the All-State Choir.

The auditions required testing with a vocal judge who is a professional choral teacher or choral director. Each participant was judged as a member of a quartet and then administered a sight-reading test. Andover High School is well represented. The students participating represent the fourth largest number chosen from any one high school in the northeastern quadrant.

Andover is also well represented among the staff members. Diana Kilben, Andover's fine arts coordinator, is overseeing the concert. Keith Gould, high school choral director, will manage the chorus; Mark Kerouac, high school and West Junior High School band director, will be band manager; Steve Pieramini, an instrumental instructor for the Andover Public Schools, will be assistant jazz band manager. The rehearsals and final concert will be held at the Collins Center on January 12. This will be first time that the senior high school concert, including chorus, band, jazz band and orchestra, will be held in Andover.

The final concert is closed to the public because of the numbers participating. However, rehearsals scheduled for January 4, 11 and 12 are open to the public.

Western Stars Named

Eleven West Junior High School students have been named "Western Stars," and will be honored this afternoon as they dine with Principal William E. Hart.

Recognized for their outstanding character, courtesy, commitment, cooperation and courtesy, the youngsters represent less than 5 percent of the school's population. They were chosen for the recognition by the school staff. The Western Stars will each receive a t-shirt with the Western Star logo and have their names permanently posted in the Shawsheen Road school's main corridor.

They are Peter Caramanis, son of Kerry Caramanis, 29 Forest Hill Drive; Leashanne Chen, daughter of Eileen and Sung Chen, 36 Algonquin Avenue; and Thomas DeBenedictis, son of Kenneth and Susan DeBenedictis, 3 Surrey Lane, all seventh graders.

Eighth grade students winning the Western Stars recognition are Kristyn Burt, daughter of Renee and Richard Burt, 5 Cheyenne Circle; Jonathan Copetta, son of Robert and Patricia Copetta, 112 Greenwood Road; David Carnes, son of David and Jean Carnes, 25 Bailey Road; Heather Koehler, daughter of Phyllis Koehler, 7 Wild Rose Drive; and Matthew Zipeto, son of John and Ellen Zipeto, 14 Canterbury St.

Ninth grade Western Stars are Randall Bachner, son of Irving and Andrea Bachner, 7 Oriole Drive; Douglas Prugh, son of Duane and Jean Prugh, 24 Woodhaven Drive; and Kerry Zembko, daughter of Suzanne and Michael Zembko, 1 Pepperidge Circle.

Lutz Leads Team In Tourney

A fairy-tale ending enabled Pine Manor College (PMC) (2-0) to defend its Tipoff Tourney title with a thrilling 67-77 victory over Emmanuel College (1-1). The contest, which featured numerous lead changes, was up for grabs until Freshman Tammy Armour, tourney MVP, stole an inbounds pass with seven seconds left and dribbled out the clock to insure the Pine Manor victory.

In reaching the finals, Pine Manor College, which triumphed over Wheaton College 78-44 and Emmanuel, displayed strong running games coupled with tenacious full court defenses. The attack was paced by Sandy Smith's 15 points and Nancy Garsick's 10 points on five-for-seven shooting. The inside game was paced by Freshman Terri Wilson's six points and nine rebounds and Freshman Sue Lutz's three block shots. Lutz is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Lutz of Andover.

The thrilling comeback began with two minutes to go and Pine

Manor down five points. Junior Chris Spinelli stole two passes while pressing full court and converted both steals for layups. Wilson then put Pine Manor ahead on a loose ball rebound. This set the stage for Armour's dramatic steal.

Western Round-Up

By Susan Santagati

The ninth grade students of West Junior High School participated in Career Day on November 28. Representatives from the business community spoke to the students on several career topics. Accounting, banking, broadcasting/radio, commercial flight attendant, computers, engineering, journalism/news-paper, nursing, law/congressional aide and law enforcement/police were the professions discussed. Each student selected and attended two different sessions. The purpose of the day was to expose students to various career opportunities. It was an informative day and beneficial to the students involved.

Basketball season has begun and the boys' and girls' teams are practicing in preparation for their first games on December 21. The boys are being coached by Mr. Canovitch and the girls by Mr. Darrin, head coach, and Mr. Gangi, assistant coach. Cheerleading tryouts will be held soon and Mrs. Santagati will coach the team.

With the holidays approaching, activities are being planned and student council members are working hard to prepare for the Holiday Dance to be held Friday, Dec. 14.

Treating Sprains

Rest. If you feel pain, stop exercising. Do not aggravate the injury by continuing to work out.

Wrap ice in a towel or plastic bag and apply it to the injured area for 30 minutes to reduce pain and swelling. Move it every five minutes to avoid frostbite.

To limit swelling further, wrap an elastic bandage, not too tightly, around the injured area for 30 minutes. Then remove it for 15 minutes to ease circulation.

Raise the injured area above the heart level to help drain excess fluid.

Take aspirin or buffered aspirin to relieve the pain of inflammation.

Holiday Toy Safety Tips

Secretary of Consumer Affairs and Business Regulation Paula W. Gold urges consumers to take all possible precautions in the selection and use of children's toys during this holiday season. Most importantly, Gold advises shoppers to closely examine labels on toy packages. "Age recommendations provide safety guidelines and may assist in selecting educational as well as suitable toys," she says. "Also, look for labels such as 'flame-resistant/flame-retardant' on fabric products and 'washable/hygienic materials' on stuffed toys and dolls."

In 1983, according to the U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission estimates, more than 118,000 toy-related injuries resulted from incidental contact or impact with a toy. For example, a child may be injured by falling on, tripping over or being hit by a toy. The second cause of accidents was choking on a small toy or part of a toy such as marbles, balloons or building pieces.

Any questions regarding toy recalls and safety can be directed to the toll free hotline number of the U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission in Washington: 1-800-638-2772.

Acquiring A Business Fulfills A Dream

For five years Sandy Fournier has dreamed about having her own business — this year that dream has become a reality.

The Boxford resident recently bought Paula Tokowicz's gift shop, called Just For You, at 36 Main St. Fournier said her experience as the manager of a Lawrence liquor store gave her the retail experience she needed before she started on her own. While she worked in the liquor store, Fournier designed wine baskets, which led her to begin thinking about having her own shop.

Fournier said she will keep the Just For You name, for now. And much of the store's wares will stay the same, she said. The popular Drawing Board and "people cards" lines of cards are in stock as are "Lucy & Me" porcelain bisque figures and a number of "kitchen witches."

A number of new items will be available at Just For You, said the new owner, including some on consignment.

"As a consignment shop," said Fournier, "people have come in and asked me to stock their things." The new shopkeeper said she will be selective about what one-of-a-kind items she stocks. She will also introduce a line of hand-made dolls called Russian Dolls.

Fournier said she wants to get "a feel for what people are collecting," before she brings in a lot of new items. She will be working at the Main Street store on her own for now, and may hire salespersons in the future, she said. Her nine year-old son Tom may provide some help, said Fournier. He keeps asking when he can see his mother's shop, said Fournier.

Just For You opens daily, except Sundays, at 10 a.m.. The shop closes at 5 p.m. on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Saturday; at 6 p.m., on Thursday and at 8 p.m. on Friday. Just for you is closed on Sundays.

Armano Is Appointed Sales Manager

Robert S. Smith, president of Associated Environmental Systems, an industry leader in the manufacturing of environmental simulation equipment, announced the promotion of Michael Armano to sales manager. Formerly personnel manager, Armano's new job responsibilities will include coordinating inside sales functions and administrative duties.

Prior to joining Associated, Armano was general manager with Kajan International. He obtained a Bachelor's degree from Suffolk University, Boston, and is working toward a Master's degree at Boston State College.

Armano and his wife, Gina, have one child and reside in North Andover.

Impact Of Prop 2½ Shown

Proposition 2½ went into effect on Dec. 4, 1980. On Dec. 1, 1984, Citizens For Limited Taxation Executive Director Barbara Anderson released a Lane & Co. study showing the impact of Prop 2½ through Fiscal Year 1983 in a major address to the Association of Town Finance Committees' Sixth Annual Conference.

Using the assigned theme "Municipal Solvency Despite Inflation," Anderson told the FinComm Association that "aggregate local receipts per capita, adjusted for inflation, actually rose 7.1 percent between FY'80 and FY'84.

Local spending, again in constant dollars, went up 6.5 percent. And the ending cash balances for FY'83 were $49 per capita higher than in FY'80; adjusted for inflation, they were $19 higher, showing a constant dollar increase of 15 percent."

The numbers were then again adjusted to respond to a concern that many new-debt dollars merely reflect the short-term borrowing that was necessary in several communities during the revaluation process. Adjusting for inflation and removing all debt from both receipts and spending, Anderson noted that "total local receipts still increased by $43 per capita in FY'83 over FY'80, a real percentage increase of 2.9 percent. Spending, similarly adjusted, went up 4.5 percent."

The private-sector study of the aggregate impact of Prop 2½ was done for CLT by Lane & Co. of Marblehead, which provides information from its municipal data base to the financial community among others. The study is part of a comprehensive Proposition 2½ analysis which shows the impact by region, population group, family income and roughly 14 other categories.

"The bottom line is this," said Anderson. "Massachusetts municipalities were spending between 4.5 percent (removing debt) and 6.5 percent (counting debt) more in FY'83 than they spent in FY'80, after adjusting for inflation. There was obviously enough money to keep up with the cost of living and to increase ending year balances by 15 percent. How the extra 4.5 percent to 6.5 percent was spent often depended on the prioritization of the finance committees," which Anderson thanked for their efforts to "make Proposition 2½ work the way it was intended."

With local government under the control of the voters, CLT and the High Tech Council are turning their attention to the Commonwealth. The two organizations have co-filed a bill with Rep. Richard Moore (D-Uxbridge) and Rep. Augusta Hornblower (R-Groton) to repeal the 7½ percent surtax. Moore, house chairman of the taxation committee, has long been an advocate of surtax repeal, and Hornblower placed a non-binding initiative for repeal on the 1st Middlesex district ballot this fall; it won 12,829 to 3,108. Surtax repeal also won by more than 80 percent in each of the other five districts where it was on the ballot.

According to High Tech Council President Howard P. Foley, "the emergency that the surtax was originally levied to meet has been over for almost a decade. If the proposed federal tax simplification plan goes through, a new kind of crisis could arise as Massachusetts' taxpayers lose their deduction for state and local taxes."

Anderson and Foley agreed that "Proposition 2½ has been successfully implemented to the benefit of the taxpayers and the Massachusetts economy. Proposition (minus 7½ percent) is next."

Hospital Selling Facility

Bon Secours Hospital Director William L. Lane announced that the hospital will sell the Bon Secours Salem Health Center, its wholly owned subsidiary, located in Salem, N.H. According to Lane, the boards of trustees of both the Salem Health Center and Bon Secours Hospital have jointly agreed that the hospital should divest itself of the center.

He said, "Massachusetts' cost containment law, Chapter 372, has had a significant impact on the hospital during its second and third years of implementation, making it impossible for us to continue to additionally shoulder the financial responsibilities of the Salem Health Center which, as a new venture, has yet to turn the corner on profitability. With limited resources available to the hospital due to such tight economic constraints, we no longer have the means to support both entities. Since our first priority is Bon Secours Hospital and hospital-based services, our decision to sell the Salem Health Center, while regretful, is clearly the fiscally responsible alternative at this time."

In seeking a responsible owner for the facility,

Lane said the hospital will be looking to maintain a close working relationship with the center, possibly continuing to manage it. "It is our intention to protect as best we can the strong relationship the hospital has developed with the southern New Hampshire community over the past couple of years. As the primary institutional medical care provider serving that population, we will continue to assist the medical community in meeting its responsibilities for patient care services in the southern New Hampshire area."

Lane also announced that the hospital intends to maintain the services of the Salem Health Center until an acceptable buyer is found and a mutually beneficial agreement is made. He said that the hospital will review proposals from interested and appropriate parties over the next few weeks. He also added, "We would like to see the facility kept operational and in local hands; therefore, our primary objective is to identify a buyer who will best address the health care needs of that community."

Transit Authority Awarded Citation

State Transportation Secretary Frederick P. Salvucci recently marked the tenth anniversary of the state's Regional Transit Authority program, which serves 34 million riders each year, by awarding the Merrimack Valley Regional Transit Authority (MVTRA) administrator, Joseph Costanzo, with a citation from Gov. Michael S. Dukakis honoring "MVTRA's commitment to improved public transportation."

In presenting the citation, Salvucci said, "MVTRA plays an important role in the ongoing revitalization of the Merrimack Valley."

"Gov. Dukakis and this administration recognize the importance of public transportation as part of an effective transportation system that fosters and sustains economic growth," he said. "Regional Transit Authorities are the foundation of the public transportation network in every part of Massachusetts."

Before the RTA program was created by the legislature in 1974, local transit authorities statewide were failing. This program has turned those failures into successes and the state's 14 RTAs now serve the residents of 163 communities," Salvucci continued.

"All over Massachusetts, RTAs are expanding to serve new areas, as well as new riders like the elderly and handicapped. Fleets and facilities are being modernized to improve service throughout the state. This program is a tremendous success," he said.

The Merrimack Regional Valley Transit Authority serves Amesbury, Andover, Boxford, Groveland, Haverhill, Lawrence, Methuen, Merrimac, Newbury, Newburyport, North Andover and Rowley.

Before the birth of Christ there was a December celebration called "Saturnalia." It paid tribute to the god Saturn.

Ms. Foley President Of Board

Trustees of Charles River Academy, Cambridge, announces the election of Joan E. Foley as president and chairman of the board.

Foley is employed by a NYNEX Company as a district manager of the Corporate Data Center in Andover. She holds degrees in mathematics and computer science from Duquesne University and Stevens Institute of Technology. She resides with her husband, Eugene Foley, at 5 Brookwood Road, Lexington.

Foley replaces Jack W. Cuthbert whose resignation was respectfully accepted by the board with much appreciation for his many years of service. Cuthbert, a Bedford resident, will remain as a member of the board of trustees.

In accepting the presidency, Foley expressed her sincere thanks to the board of directors for the confidence they have placed in her and announced a program of recognition and support for the administration and faculty.

She also indicated a major fund-raising project would be initiated in early 1985 to provide a broad base support for the expanded residential program established by Charles River Academy Headmaster Gary Easton.

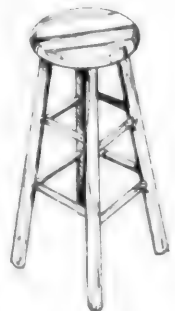

The trustees also announced the election of Pamela Brown as secretary. Brown, director of the Study Center at Phillips Academy, Andover, is a learning disabilities specialist and holds a Master's degree in Educational Psychology from Boston College. She has taught at Curry College, Milton. Brown resides with her husband, Jordan Adair, at Phillips Academy.

Charles River Academy is a private, non-profit, Chapter 766-approved secondary school for children with learning disabilities.

Fraudulent Schemes Prevalent

"Christmas is coming soon, and that means there will be a large number of people trying to convince you that they're really Santa Claus in a business suit."

With those words, Secretary of State Michael J. Connolly warned potential investors about abusive and fraudulent tax shelter schemes which are marketed aggressively during this season, as the tax year comes to its conclusion.

"What appears to be a lucrative Christmas present often leaves the investor with an empty stocking," Connolly said. "This is the time of year many tax-conscious investors are searching for tax shelters, and the careless ones can lose a lot of money, as abusive deductions become disallowed by the Internal Revenue Service."

Connolly added that some investment programs claim tax savings as high as eight times the original investment. "My securities division and the IRS watch these shelters very closely," he said. "When the shelters are disallowed, investors can expect to lose their cash investment and the promised tax deduction, as well as to pay IRS interest and penalty charges and even be liable to make payments on loans that were part of the scheme. Massachusetts investors are bilked out of 10 million dollars a year through such fraudulent tax shelters."

If potential investors have any questions or concerns about tax shelter deals, Connolly advised them to call the securities division of the Office of the Secretary of State.

Greek legend tells of mysterious unseen creatures who wander around for 12 days after Christmas creating mischief. In addition to calling for a priest to make the "Karkantzari" disappear, families burn old leather shoes so the odor will chase them away.

Santa To Visit In Lawrence

Santa Claus will be busy tomorrow evening, scheduled to appear at Andover's Family Night celebration and at the annual Lawrence Intown Family Night procession, set to begin at 7 p.m., on Essex Street.

Featured in the parade with Santa Claus and his sled pulled by reindeers will be the Lawrence High School Band, Chieftan Drum and Bugle Corps, Clan McPherson Bagpipe Band, clowns from the Western Electric Pioneers group, Reading Youth Batons, the Lawrence Police Department and Sesame Street character "Big Bird."

Lawrence merchants have planned, organized and funded the annual celebration for the past four years. Refreshments such as hot cocoa and cider will be available. Intown Lawrence stores will be open until 8 p.m. from December 11 through Christmas.

A Helpful Hint

Preparing chocolate desserts with unsweetened cocoa is a great way to ensure rich, chocolatey flavor while saving time, mess and money.

Versatile cocoa can be used in baking chocolate recipes; three level tablespoons cocoa, plus one level tablespoon shortening (solid or liquid), equals a one-ounce square of baking chocolate.

Smiling his best holiday grin, Justin Lau, age four, son of Judy and David Lau, Blackberry Lane, Andover, enjoys seeing Boston from Santa's sleigh on the Prudential Center Skywalk, Boston. The sleigh is one of the many holiday activities available at the Prudential Center during this holiday season. In the Prudential Tower Lobby, there is a Christmas Americana exhibit of antique dolls and toys as well as a Nova Scotia display. In addition, the Prudential Center tree, a 55-foot spruce, is lit with 15,000 lights every evening at dusk.

same as last year's, at $19,000. A three-year contract with the firm that handles the School Committee's labor contract negotiations has kept this figure stable. Next year will be the second year of that contract. The legal services figure was the only expenditure to stay the same. All other school expenses and salary figures have increases with the exception of the maintenance and grounds total, which has dropped 1.6%.

Fiscal year 1986's maintenance and grounds total, approved on Tuesday's first pass, was $219,100, 1.6% down from $222,725. These funds are spent annually to heat all the town's schools except Doherty Junior High, which with its gas heat falls under the utilities account; and the high school, heated by electricity except in the Collins Center, which is heated by gas, also included in the utilities account.

Utilities costs include electricity, gas and telephone bills, totaling an approved amount of $499,655, up 4.8% from 476,600.

The fixed charges account pays for the life and health insurance for school department employees. This year that insurance will run to $407,000, up 4.4% from last year's budget.

Personnel expenses were approved at $14,533, up 23.5% from last year's $11,764. In addition, personnel salary figures were the only salary numbers voted upon last evening. The salary total is up 1.7% to $47,038, from last year's $46,232.

A glance at the school's estimated salary expenditures from the master list show all salaries increasing from as much as 36.5% in the assistant superintendents' office to a low of 1.7% in the personnel account, the only salary figured approved upon Tuesday. Salary totals for the 15 salary accounts show a total increase of 10.5% for $12,850,000, up from last year's $11,632,242.

The expense side of the budget shows a 7.8% increase to a total of $3,269,755, from $3,032,758 that was spent last year.

Seifert told the School Committee, in a budget report discussed on Tuesday, that this year emphasis will be put on research and development in the budget, something the School Committee and the superintendent have agreed will be a priority. Research and development falls under the teaching account, the expense side of which shows a jump of 18.8% and an increase of 10.7% on the salary side.

The report also assumes a five to six percent increase for inflation.

At their next meeting, on Tuesday, Dec. 18, at 7:30 p.m., the committee will discuss salary and expense budget figures related to the superintendent's and assistant superintendents' offices, transportation and custodial services.

Discussion on Jan. 5, will be about health services, athletics, student body and special education budget figures. And on Jan. 19 the committee will discuss all instructional costs and equipment budget figures.

Venetian blinds originated in the time of Marco Polo, during the 1200s. The earliest styles were fixed and made of wood. They were called "persiana" by the Italians and "jalousie a la persienne" by the French.

The 18th century brought new developments in the art of making venetian new blinds installed at Mount Vernon. The Declaration of Independence was signed in a room with venetian blinds.

Threat Empties School

By Susan Rand

It turned out to be a false alarm but school officials ordered the evacuation of Andover High School while Andover Police and Fire Department personnel were on hand after a bomb threat was called into the school's switchboard sometime after 1 p.m., this past Monday.

School and police personnel are investigating the incident and have a lead on who called the school but, as Acting Principal Stephen Richardson said, it will be difficult to find the caller.

"We know there are people in the building who are aware of who made the call," Richardson said.

And school officials won't go easy on whoever called it in. At their Tuesday evening meeting the board heard from school Superintendent Kenneth R. Seifert who said he thought the call shouldn't be considered a practical joke.

"There are people who can be hurt emptying out a school," Seifert said. "If we do apprehend the individuals (they) will be before you," the superintendent told the board, adding he thought the incident was much more serious than many school offenses for which students are expelled according to School Committee policy.

Andover Police received a call from the school at 1:21 p.m., and Officer John Milne was dispatched to the Shawsheen Road school, with fire trucks following him. Richardson announced, over the school intercom, that the students and faculty should leave the building, taking their overcoats with them, he told THE TOWNSMAN. But Richardson did not mention the bomb threat so the evacuation would be conducted in an orderly manner, he said. Switchboard operator Mary Russo answered the bomb call and told Richardson of the bomb warning.

According to police Sgt. Frank Froburg, Milne's report said the caller was a male and told Russo there was a bomb in the building but did not give a location or time when the bomb would explode. The voice sounded young and appeared to be a disguised voice, said Froburg.

Richardson said a faulty speaker in one school classroom kept a group of students and their teacher inside the building after he had ordered the evacuation. He pulled the fire alarm to be sure the building was empty, Richardson explained, and out came the last class. The 16 year-old intercom system is now being repaired, he added.

School staff members searched the building with police and fire personnel for 20 minutes, said Richardson, finding nothing. At 1:50 p.m. the students returned to the building.

Richardson said the school has had bomb threats, the last of which was two or three years ago.

License Transfer Approved For Justin's Restaurant

By Sue Aucella Deacon

With the Board of Selectmen's approval, the alcoholic beverages license for Justin's Restaurant has been transferred to a new corporation, preparing the way for the sale of the Park Street restaurant.

Gerhard Schnellinger of North Andover, principal in the new corporation, plans to buy the restaurant from the current owner, Brian Jaymes of Andymes Management Corp.

The selectmen Monday night voted unanimously to transfer the all-alcoholic beverages license from Jaymes's corporation to Schnellinger's new corporation, called Justin's Restaurant of Andover, Inc.

The state Alcoholic Beverage Control Commission (ABCC) must now approve the license transfer before the sale will be finalized.

Andover Atty. Andrew Shea, representing Schnellinger, told the board that the new owner hopes to buy the entire business, including the trade name, fixtures and inventory. Justin's includes two floors, with a lounge and dining area on the first floor and a larger dining room on the second floor.

Schnellinger added that he would probably make changes at Justin's, "gradually, over the next six months." He said he foresaw changes in the menu, staffing, and "cosmetics" of the restaurant.

In reply to a question from the board, the Austrian-born restaurateur said he might add "a little bit of Austrian food" to the menu at Justin's, which now serves Italian cuisine.

Schnellinger said he opened the Whittier Inn in Haverhill two years ago. Janice Libby of Bradford, who works at that restaurant as well, will join him in Andover as the new manager of Justin's, he said.

His family is in the restaurant business in Austria, Schnellinger told the board, and he has been in the business "all my life."

Since coming to this country 20 years ago, he said, he has worked for restaurants in New York and Massachusetts, including Hilton restaurants and the George Page Colonial Inn in Wakefield. He has also served as executive director of the Blue Hills Country Club in Canton, he said.

Schnellinger said he was attracted to Andover by the quality of the town and its successful restaurants. He told the selectmen he intended to "try to live up to the excellence of Andover."

Hoopsters

"We'll open up our offense a little more this year. Last season, because of our personnel, we walked the ball up court most of the time. This year we have the people to push the ball up court, the ability to run, and we'll fast break more."

"Both Rotondi and Lutz can put their hands above the square (on the backboard), and that kind of jumping talent should enable us to rebound well and get the outlet passes to start the break."

"When we do get in a setup (half-court) situation we'll run a controlled motion offense, trying to open the floor (spread the defense) for our long-range shooters (Perry and Klopacz)," explained Ryser.

"My main concern is defense. I believe in pressure, and we'll begin the year using a lot of man-to-man. If it's not working we'll have to switch to a match-up type defense or some 'junk' zones."

Scrimmages

The Golden Warriors wasted little time getting some practical "game" experience, scrimmaging Lynn Classical, Phillips Academy and Governor Dummer at PA on their third day of practice.

Andover defeated Classical by 10 points, while the two Prep Schools (who had been working out several weeks) had the upper hand by about the same margin.

"Classical just sat back in a zone most of the time, so we dis-sected it without too much trouble," said Ryser. "I felt we maintained our poise, and did pretty much what we wanted to against them."

"Phillips and Governor Dummer both had a lot of size, experience and several good post-graduates. They threw all kinds of pressure defenses at us and, while I was a little upset they kept them on almost the whole way, it was a good test for our kids."

The Golden Warriors traveled to Peabody to scrimmage Bishop Fenwick earlier this week, and other workouts are scheduled with at Medford High and home against Reading.

Jamboree

Andover will participate in the annual MVC-Cape Ann League Jamboree this Saturday night at North Reading High, playing Pentucket Regional in a mini-game consisting of two 8-minute quarters.

The regular MVC season won't begin until early January, but AHS will against compete in the 10th annual Greater-Lawrence Christmas Basketball Festival at Merrimack College December 27-29.

The initial MVC contest is January 2 at Lawrence Central.

Ryser knows Lowell and Billerica will be tough, LHS returning Ramon Rivera and Scott Stapleton, while Billerica has pivotman Mike Dagle and point-guard Gary DiSarcina back again.

"Central lost their two big guns (Leo Parent and Bobby Licare), but they won't be down that far because they're a very well-coached team (Dick Licare)," remarked Ryser.

"Chelmsford always has some big kids, Methuen has been working hard to improve, and you never know what to expect from Lawrence or Greater-Lawrence (coached by former Andover standout Art Yancy)."

The Andover varsity will select its captain(s) this week.

Junior Varsity

The Golden Warrior JVs have some potential blue-chippers among the 22 sophomores who tried out.

Top underclassmen include Steve Redgate, Rich Bourdelais, Kurt Burzlaff, Eric Goodman, Nick Coon, Jon Daly, Gerry Nassif, Erik Frank, Jay Trepanier and Mark Tucker (sidelined with a foot injury).

George Sullivan will again coach the JV squad, while returning freshman hoop coaches are Lowell Canavitch (West) and Bob Hatem (Doherty).

Ryser, a UConn graduate who teaches at Medford High and lives in Tewksbury, has had previous coaching experience at Tufts College (assistant) and Curry College (five years as head coach).

On December 13, the arrival of the Christmas season in Sweden is heralded by a portrayal of Saint Lucia. Garbed in white, with a flowing bright red sash and a pine bough crown glowing from the light of seven candles, she awakens the family and serves them coffee and cake.

Skiing Lessons Offered

The Department of Community Services, in conjunction with the Sheraton Rolling Green Ski Touring Center, will offer cross country ski lessons to adults. The first session is scheduled to begin January 8. Each session includes three dates of one-hour lessons and one hour of free skiing time. Registration forms are available at the DCS office.

Kitchen Design

by David A. Clement, Designer

Be sure to have proper ventilation installed when updating a kitchen. It is estimated that on average, approximately 200 pounds of moisture, smoke and greasy vapor are released during a year's worth of cooking. Beside causing odors and discoloration, unvented vapors can cause greasy walls and peeling paint. A kitchen remodeler can install an exhaust fan and ductwork at the same time the kitchen walls, ceilings and cabinets are being renewed. A ventilating hood can be used over kitchen ranges, especially where cook islands are involved. Proper ventilation is but one contributor to the total satisfaction of a remodeler's kitchen.

A kitchen remodeler can be the answer to your cooking needs. Your desire for preparing your favorite dishes has diminished because you don't have the best conditions in which to make them. Come to WINDSOR KITCHENS and we'll design a kitchen that will contain all the essential products you'll need for a useful and functional room. We use custom wood and laminated cabinets in numerous styles and finishes. Our show room displays many beautiful kitchens, so come in and browse and get some great ideas. 1181 Boston Rd., Ward Hill, Mass. Thurs 9-5:30 Fri til 8 Sat. til 2 Tel. 372-3444

Ice Skating May Be Dropped

Town-sponsored ice skating may be on its last legs in Andover this winter, the town manager indicated Monday night.

If skaters show up in force during February, however, the Board of Selectmen may propose a special article at spring town meeting to save the cold weather sport.

Town manager Kenneth Mahony told the board that the cost of making ice outdoors at Recreation Park and at the Ballardvale playground keeps going up each year, and that "not many people" use the ice.

"This is probably the last year we'll be able to do it," he said. "We could do it this year and forget it next year."

But Selectman William Dalton asked how many people do skate at the Rec Park and Ballardvale playgrounds, where the basketball courts are flooded. Mahony said he was not sure — but he maintained that for most people, the idea of ice skating is more appealing than actually lacing up the skates and hitting the ice.

Dalton suggested that the Department of Community Services take a count of how many skaters appear at the playgrounds this winter, and then return to the selectmen with that information. He said ice skating might be an "emotional" issue with townspeople, one that might warrant a special article at town meeting to provide continued funding.

Selectman Charles Wesson added that the town might also be able to find a new, less expensive means of flooding the courts for skating; Chairman Donn Byrne asked the manager to come up with some cost estimates on alternative ways to provide skating.

DCS plans to flood the two courts for just one month this winter, February, as it did last year.

Later during Monday night's meeting, the selectmen voted unanimously to donate a boathouse that once belonged to Phillips Academy to the Greater Lawrence Regional Vocational Technical School on River Road.

Phillips Academy built the boathouse on town-owned property located behind the new Doyle Lumber yard on River Road. The academy gave the building to the town last year, after building a new boathouse elsewhere.

The manager explained that the town has found no use for the boathouse, and that it has been the scene of two fires set by vandals in recent months. He said the galvanized steel structure would be transferred to the vocational school for a nominal sum.

Completes Training

Pvt. Robert R. Stetter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard F. Stetter, 179 Hillside Road, North Andover, completed one station unit training (OSUT) at the U.S. Army Infantry School, Fort Benning, Ga.

OSUT is a 12-week period which combines basic combat training and advanced individual training.

The training included weapons qualifications, squad tactics, patrolling, landmine warfare, field communications and combat operations. Completion of this course qualifies the soldier as a light-weapons infantryman and as an indirect-fire crewman.

The Better Business Bureau needs people from all walks of life willing to serve as volunteer arbitrators under the BBB National Automotive Program. In order to participate, you must be a resident of Massachusetts, old enough to vote and willing to attend a two and a half hour training seminar.

The BBB Arbitration Training Seminar for the Merrimack Valley area will be held Wednesday, Dec. 12, at 7 p.m. in the Merrimack Valley Motor Inn, Chickering Road (Route 125) North Andover.

Anyone interested in attending the training session should call 1-800-325-1222 between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. and provide name and address.

The Audi 4000S quattro is so logical.

It uses all four wheels all of the time for the good reason that permanent all wheel drive maximizes traction efficiency by equally distributing the engine's power to all four wheels.

And when each wheel is then surrounded with independent suspension and disc brakes, the result is an incredibly enhanced feeling of driver control. All of the time. In any weather. In the city or on the highway.

And all achieved with no loss of fuel efficiency, unlike other four wheel drive systems.*

The art of engineering.

Every car has four wheels.
Only quattro uses them all.

Christmas Is Just For You

Porcelain teddie bears skate on mirror ponds in the window, serenaded by a trio of caroling frogs. Above them, the Merry Christmas Witch hovers, bearing miniature presents on the bristles of her broom.

The Merry Christmas Witch? Yes, Virginia, Just For You has a Merry Christmas Witch. And a Nurse Witch, beaming astride her hypodermic syringe. And, for traditionalists, there is the standard Kitchen Witch—riding a not-so-standard wire whisk.

"We also carry gourmet dog cookies," says Sandy Fournier, who has owned the Just For You shop at 36 Main Street in Andover for about three weeks. Although the shop has changed hands, it will retain its old inventory. "I'll be keeping what's here, here," says Sandy, who emphasizes the importance of serving the shop's long-standing clientele. In fact, if a customer can not find an item that he or she has seen before in Just For You, Sandy will order it. In addition, she is bringing in a number of new items, many of which are hand-crafted by local craftspeople. Some crafts will be sold on consignment.

"I'm also adding a number of collectibles to the shop," says Sandy. For example, she offers a new line of hand-made dolls from Russia, lavishly dressed in peasant and period costumes.

Sandy explains that she did not buy the store with the intention of "competing with all the other shops in town." What Just For You sells—items as varied as personalized aprons, Christmas cards made to carry photos, Bar Mitzvah commemoratives and hand-made dried flower wreaths—can't be found in any other store in the area. The shop carries gifts for all ages, sizes and temperaments.

Just For You is open 10 AM to 5 PM on Mondays (new day), Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Saturdays; Thursdays from 10 AM to 6 PM, and Fridays from 10 AM to 8 PM. Telephone 475-0554.

Ahearn and Ahearn - Your Truly "Local" Real Estate Agency

CENTURY 21 Ahearn & Ahearn Realty, Inc., located at 232 Sutton Street, North Andover, is a full-service Real Estate Brokerage business. Co-owners Walter V. Robeck and Rick Coco feel that the heart of their business is the brokers who service their customers and clients in the Greater Lawrence area.

Through the CENTURY 21 "career track" system, their sales associates have completed many courses designed to keep them abreast of current Real Estate trends, such as the new A.C.R.S. Depreciation program, which has a great impact on small and large investors alike.

Recently, all of the sales staff completed a six-week course of instruction, conducted by trained Real Estate specialists, which focused on the needs of both buyers and sellers in our investment marketplace.

Explains Ribbeck, "With market conditions changing daily, we as brokers cannot sit back and wait for things to happen. Unlike some companies who have become complacent, we have taken a dynamic approach to selling Real Estate. We make things happen."

And making things happen they are. Their sales volume has more than doubled each year they have been in business. "Of course," says

Coco, "our success is due largely to our sales staff, and the trust the public has placed in them."

The people who are making it happen here are all local area residents, living in North Andover, Andover, Methuen, Lawrence and Bradford.

The office of CENTURY 21 Ahearn & Ahearn Realty, Inc. is open seven days a week, Monday through Friday from 9 AM to 8 PM. Saturday and Sunday 9 AM to 5 PM. At these times, a professional Broker is available to serve your Real Estate needs. Please feel free to call or come in Telephone: 686-0021 and 470-0021.

Condo Hearing To Resume

A group of Westwood developers will try again tonight to convince the Zoning Board of Appeals to let them build a 27-unit condominium project on Poor Street.

But if tonight's meeting is anything like the last Planning Board meeting, on Tuesday, Nov. 27, McNeil and Associates, the developers, will have an uphill battle to get the zoning approval on the special permit they need to put the condos in the Apartment-zoned 12.5 acre parcel.

At their meeting the planners told McNeil representatives that they were not satisfied with the site plan, which, they said did not look like the plan Town Meeting voters approved last spring when they changed the zoning on Poor Street to accommodate the development.

The effect the condos would have on the neighboring homes was also of concern to the town's Principal Planner Nancy Jeton who told the developers the Zoning Board's approval of the special permit will depend greatly on how the plan affects neighbors.

Andover resident James Barenboim owns the land where McNeil hopes to build what they have been calling "luxury" condominiums that will sell for upwards of $250,000 each. The development will be called Brookfield Condominiums. The property is situated in Shawsheen Village, next to Hussey's Pond and across from Windsor Street. McNeil wants to buy the site and develop the condos and the property is under agreement to the Westwood company.

The Poor Street plan was before the Planning Board last week after the Zoning Board put off a decision on the special permit question to give McNeil personnel time to work out what they perceived were wrinkles in the site plan with the residents living near the proposed development and with the Planning Board. The Zoning hearing was not closed but continued until tonight, at 7:30 p.m., when the matter will again be discussed in the school administration conference room, on the second floor of the Whittier Street building.

Although Planning Board approval of the plans aren't necessary before the Zoning Board makes a decision the Zoning Board members asked Planner Jeton and Board Chairman Margaret Bradshaw for comments on the plan at the Zoning meeting on Thursday, Nov. 1. Both town officials said the plan was very different from the first site plan designed by George Matarazzo, of Concord, N.H., that was presented and approved at April's Town Meeting.

"This rezoning (at Town Meeting) sets a precedent in town. Your board has a big responsibility," Jeton told the Appeals Board members at their November meeting. "The Planning Board is glad to have it off their shoulders. A lot of people are looking at this particular project."

And Bradshaw added, "we have to be able to be assured that what we (told) Town Meeting is going to be built."

In a telephone interview this week with THE TOWNSMAN Thomas Southworth, of McNeil and Associates, said changes had been made on the plans as a result of the Planning Board meeting. One of the problems the planners discussed with Southworth at their meeting a cluster of condos was situated in the northwest corner of the land, some 30 feet from the property line. Jeton said the Matarazzo plan put that building 80 away from the property line, something the planner said she still wants to see on the McNeil plan.

But Southworth said, on Tuesday, that the building had been moved further from the lot line to accommodate the planners' wishes. Jeton told THE TOWNSMAN that the building was now 60 feet from the line, still 20 feet short of where she wants to see it positioned.

"He's getting there but he is not quite there yet," Jeton said of Southworth's new plans. It is a compromise but it is not what the Planning Board wanted. I thought it was clear (to McNeil personnel) but I guess it wasn't."

Jeton said she was also still bothered by the amount of land each cluster of condominiums takes on the site. There are six buildings housing a total of 27 condominiums. The buildings are larger, on the McNeil plans, than they were on the Matarazzo plans.

Jeton said she and Bradshaw will be at tonight's Zoning Board meeting.

Scanlon

the Andover Savings Bank. (The former hardware store will be renovated into bank-owned retail space.) Scanlon also operates a hardware store on Essex Street in Lawrence; the retail business was started by his father, Timothy Scanlon, during the forties.

The Barnard building, built in 1910, includes Ford's Coffee Shop and Hughes Pharmacy as well as the hardware store. The second floor, which has an entrance around the corner on Park Street, currently houses nine rental units and three small offices, Scanlon said.

His phase-one plans call for renovating the second floor, along with a mezzanine level located above the hardware store, into professional office space. A new entrance and an elevator will be added on Main Street, he said.

In addition, part of the basement of the existing building will be renovated into office space as well.

As part of this phase of the project, the front of the building will be restored to resemble its original appearance, circa 1910, Scanlon indicated. The renovation will give the hardware store, coffee shop and pharmacy a "uniform storefront," he explained.

The Boston architectural firm of Robert Associates has just about completed plans for the renovations, the businessman said, and he expects to receive a town building permit before Jan. 1.

Scanlon hopes to solicit contractors' bids during January, and to begin "ripping out" the interior of the second floor during February. The renovation phase could be completed by July of next year, he said.

Tenants who currently lease space on the second floor will have to move out by February; it is uncertain how many, if any, will return after construction has been finished, he said.

The addition of a third floor, phase two of the project, will probably begin in April or May of next year, and could be completed by February or March of 1986. Scanlon expects the addition to be "at least partly done" by next December.

The new floor will be added over the existing space, Scanlon indicated, most likely over the rear of the building. A metal building erected by Cole four or five years ago now stands in that area, he said, and will probably be removed.

Although the roof of the new third floor will project above the current roofline at the rear of the building, and perhaps extend over the existing rooftop as well, Scanlon says it will probably not be visible from Main Street. He said he considers the building of historic value, and wants to preserve its exterior.

"This will not change the appearance of the building from the street," he said. "You probably won't see the addition at all from Main Street."

Scanlon said he is "excited" about the upcoming project: "I'm looking forward to changing that building into really deluxe office space."

Andover I.D.F.A. Chairman Lawrence Spiegel said yesterday that Scanlon's project falls under the state's Commercial Area Revitalization District (CARD) program, which grants industrial revenue bonds to small businesses interested in "sprucing up" their properties.

Scanlon's project is true to the intention of the program, he explained, because the businessman will use his funding to rehabilitate existing property and thus help improve the downtown area.

The local finance authority was impressed by Scanlon's "superb presentation" and "excellent" plans, Spiegel said.

"We were especially impressed by his awareness of trying to maintain the facade of the building in the original sense," the chairman added. "He was very much aware of the appearance of the building — he's going to clean up the brick and concrete, for instance — and that is important."

Spiegel called the Scanlon proposal "a nice project that will enhance the downtown. It's using the CARD program the way it should be used."

LOOKING FOR BUILDING LOT?

Not everyone wants to buy an existing home. Some prefer to buy land and build their dream house on it. If you are worried about building lot availability - don't. There is land to build on nationally and locally.

Want to talk big figures? The total land area in the United States amounts to 2.26 BILLION acres. This can be broken down into 703 million acres of forest, 587 million acres of grassland and ranges, 471 million acres of farmland and 345 million acres of urban land, deserts and swamps. Sixty percent of all the land is privately owned, 33% is owned by the federal government and 7% by state and local governments. Of all this land, only 5% is devoted to housing, manufacturing, shopping and transportation. Even though our population has tripled since 1900, 95% of all the available land is still undeveloped. That's a lot of land.

If you are looking for a building lot in this area, we may have fine lots available in various price ranges.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at THE HOWE AGENCY, 4 PUNCHARD AVE., ANDOVER. Phone: 475-5100. We're here to help.

THE FIRST-TIMERS

First-time home buyers were the most hurt when interest rates rose sky-high a few years ago. With no home equity behind them, they were hard-pressed to make down payments with cash alone. The results was that many were squeezed out of the market for a time.

Good news — they're back. In 1983, it was the first-time home buyer who really triggered a real estate comeback. Across the country, these buyers purchased 39.7 percent of the houses sold. This was three times the number of first-time buyers in 1981, twice as many as in 1979.

Credit for the upturn in first-time home sales goes to stable interest rates and prices. Variable-rate mortgages help more prospects qualify for loans.

Smart first-timers, new to the ins and outs of homeownership, usually count on the help and advice of a real estate professional to choose a house that meets their needs and their budgets. To tap this market, smart home sellers list with —

Leo Lynch Is Retiring

The School Committee accepted notice of a retirement from custodian Leo Lynch, who has worked in the town's schools since 1967, at their meeting this Tuesday evening.

Lynch is a familiar face to School Committee members, having always worked in the building where the committee met. First at the Central School, then the Stowe School and the Shawsheen School and finally where he now works, at the new school administrative offices on Whittier Street. Lynch will retire at the end of March.

The committee hoped to call Lynch into the meeting on Tuesday to thank him for his work but he was helping out at another school that evening. Superintendent Kenneth R. Seifert told THE TOWNSMAN after the meeting that Lynch was always around when needed.

"The thing about Leo," Seifert said, "is that any day of any year, no matter what time of the day he would be here within a half an hour if there was a problem."

The committee also approved a child-rearing leave of absence extension for Synthia Weiss, art teacher at West and Shawsheen Elementary schools, through June, 1985. The committee voted to appoint Nina Alexander to replace Weiss as a permanent substitute through June on next year. She will receive $15,462.

Janet Krabec was appointed to a permanent substitute position to replace Kenneth Pellerin, a business teacher at Doherty Junior High School. Pellerin is now working as acting assistant principal of that school. Krabec will be paid $15,462.

A resignation was accepted from Raymond Landolt, a hall monitor at Andover High, who has accepted a teaching position elsewhere.

Art Gifts

A Brush With History Gallery and Studios "Holiday Market Place," opposite the Lowell National Park Visitors Center, 256 Market St., Lowell, is open Tuesday through Sunday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Thursday to 9 p.m. until December 22. The artists have filled the gallery with giant holiday decorations and there are unique works of art for gift giving in each studio.
